

America's Best in Medicine: Cassandra Miranda, Advancing Patient-Centered Gastroenterology Care at Moffitt Cancer Center

Experienced Nurse Practitioner Blends Emergency Medicine Expertise with Specialized GI Oncology Focus

Tampa, Florida Apr 23, 2026 (IssueWire.com) - Cassandra Miranda, MSN, APRN, FNP-C, serves as the Lead Nurse Practitioner at Moffitt Cancer Center, where she specializes in gastroenterology and endoscopy within the GI Tumor Department. With a decade of advanced practice experience, Miranda brings a comprehensive, patient-centered approach to care, combining her strong clinical background with a deep commitment to improving outcomes for patients facing complex gastrointestinal conditions.

Miranda began her career as a hospital-based nurse, receiving extensive training in progressive care and gaining valuable experience in the emergency room. These early roles helped shape her ability to think critically in high-pressure environments and respond effectively to acute patient needs. Transitioning into her role as a nurse practitioner, she has successfully integrated her emergency medicine foundation with her focus on gastroenterology, allowing her to provide seamless care in both inpatient and outpatient settings. Her work spans the full continuum of care, supporting patients across the lifespan with a focus on individualized treatment and long-term wellness.

In her current leadership role, Miranda is dedicated to advancing evidence-based practices while fostering a collaborative and respectful clinical environment. She places strong emphasis on building collegial relationships among interdisciplinary teams, recognizing that high-quality patient care depends on effective communication and shared expertise. Her compassionate approach ensures that patients feel supported, informed, and empowered throughout their treatment journey.

A firm believer in lifelong learning, Miranda is actively pursuing the Nurse Executive certification through the American Nurses Credentialing Center (ANCC). This additional credential reflects her commitment to expanding both her clinical knowledge and leadership capabilities, positioning her to contribute even more effectively to organizational growth and patient care innovation. She is board-certified by the American Association of Nurse Practitioners and holds licensure through the Florida Board of Nursing.

Miranda attributes her professional success to her faith, dedication to continuous improvement, and unwavering commitment to patient advocacy. She consistently strives to create a care environment rooted in empathy, respect, and collaboration. Outside of her professional responsibilities, she enjoys staying active, spending quality time with her family, and engaging in personal development activities that further enhance her ability to serve both her patients and the broader community.
