

America's Best in Medicine: Laura Elkins Thomison, RN, BSN, Pursues Excellence in Nursing and Healthcare Innovation

Registered Nurse and DNP Student Combines Clinical Expertise, Operational Insight, and Patient-Centered Care in Chatsworth, Georgia

Chamblee, Georgia Apr 8, 2026 (IssueWire.com) - Chatsworth, Georgia — Laura Elkins Thomison, RN, BSN, is a dedicated Registered Nurse advancing her education as a Doctor of Nursing Practice (DNP) student at Maryville University of Saint Louis. With a strong foundation in acute care nursing, Laura earned both her ASN and BSN from Dalton State College, where she also completed minors in Health & Wellness and Business. Her unique combination of clinical skill, healthcare management knowledge, and business acumen reflects a deep commitment to innovation, efficiency, and excellence in patient care.

Throughout her career, Laura has gained extensive experience across acute care settings, including AdventHealth and Hamilton Medical Center. She has specialized in hemodialysis, cardiac catheterization recovery, hydration nursing, and IV therapy, demonstrating technical proficiency while maintaining a holistic approach to patient well-being. Her dedication to evidence-based practice ensures that every patient receives the highest standard of care.

“I truly enjoy working alongside my incredible team and connecting with the people I care for every day. Collaborating with colleagues who are equally dedicated to patient care makes each day rewarding and inspiring,” Laura shares.

In addition to her clinical expertise, Laura has developed strong leadership and operational skills through managerial roles such as Accounting Controller and Business Operations Manager. In these positions, she implemented health benefits administration, streamlined payroll systems, and improved operational efficiency across multiple companies. This dual perspective in both clinical and administrative domains enables her to address healthcare challenges with a comprehensive, patient-centered approach.

Laura also demonstrates a commitment to community engagement and mentorship. She has volunteered as a Big Sister with Big Brothers Big Sisters of Northwest Georgia, supporting youth development and education. She continues to honor her family’s legacy through peer mentorship, empowering students to pursue higher education and pursue professional excellence.

As she progresses in her DNP program, Laura remains dedicated to advancing her clinical expertise, fostering innovation in healthcare, and mentoring the next generation of nurses. Her professional philosophy emphasizes compassion, integrity, and forward-thinking care, making her a valued contributor to both her patients and the broader healthcare community.

Through her combined focus on clinical excellence, operational insight, and mentorship, Laura Elkins Thomison exemplifies the future of nursing: knowledgeable, compassionate, and committed to improving patient outcomes while strengthening healthcare systems.
