Dedicated Cardiovascular Nurse Elevates Patient Care through Education and Compassionate Service

Lebanon, Indiana Apr 28, 2026 (IssueWire.com) - Lebanon, Indiana – Tracee Boyles, MSN, BSN, RN-BC, CHFNP, is a distinguished cardiovascular nurse with over two decades of experience, dedicated to providing exceptional care to patients living with heart failure. Currently serving as a Heart Failure Educator and Care Coordinator at the Richard L. Roudebush VA Medical Center, Tracee is committed to bridging the gap between clinical expertise and patient education, ensuring that individuals receive the support they need to manage their conditions effectively.

With a robust background in surgical ICU care, cardiac catheterization labs, cardiac diagnostic testing, and interventional radiology procedures, Tracee has honed her skills to become a trusted resource for patients and healthcare professionals alike. She earned her Bachelor of Science in Nursing from Indiana University Indianapolis and her Master of Science in Nursing Education from Western Governors University. Her certifications as a Certified Heart Failure Nurse (CHFNP), Board-Certified Registered Nurse (RN-BC), and Board Certified Cardiovascular Nurse underscore her dedication to excellence in the field of cardiovascular care.

Tracee's professional journey has taken her through various esteemed institutions, including Hawthorne Effect, Inc. and Witham Memorial Hospital Foundation, where she has gained invaluable experience in pre- and post-operative care, SICU, CCU, ER, and specialized cardiac procedures. Her extensive knowledge equips her to improve health literacy among her patients, empowering them to take charge of their health and make informed decisions.

Beyond her clinical responsibilities, Tracee is deeply passionate about advocacy and professional development. She actively volunteers with the American Association of Heart Failure Nurses, contributing her expertise to task forces and committees focused on prevention and education. Her efforts aim to enhance community awareness about heart health and the importance of early intervention.

Guided by her inspiring philosophy, "Have a heart that never hardens, a temper that never tires, a touch that never hurts," Tracee Boyles embodies the spirit of compassionate care. Her unwavering commitment to cardiovascular health not only inspires her patients but also serves as a beacon of hope within the nursing community. As she continues her journey in healthcare, Tracee remains dedicated to making a meaningful difference in the lives of those she serves.
