Who is Ashish Mittal?

Ashish Mittal is a first-generation entrepreneur who built one of India's leading companies focused on examination security and surveillance. His work sits at the intersection of technology, governance, and public trust.

He is widely recognized for modernizing how large-scale examinations are conducted in India, especially competitive exams such as NEET, IIT-JEE, and UPSC, by introducing advanced monitoring and fraud prevention systems.

Early Life and Background

Born in Haryana, Ashish Mittal displayed an early interest in technology and analytical thinking. Rather than pursuing a traditional career path, he focused on solving real-world challenges—particularly those related to fairness and transparency in education and public systems.

This problem-solving mindset eventually became the foundation of his entrepreneurial journey.

Education

Ashish Mittal completed his engineering degree from:

- Institution: Delhi College of Engineering
- University: University of Delhi
- Degree: B.Tech in Electronics & Communication Engineering
- Years: 2007 – 2011

His technical education helped him understand and later implement complex systems involving AI surveillance, biometrics, and real-time monitoring infrastructure.

Entrepreneurial Journey: Innovatiview India Ltd

Ashish Mittal founded Innovatiview India Ltd at the age of 21, identifying a critical gap in India's examination system—lack of secure, standardized, and technology-driven processes.

Core Services of Innovatiview

- Examination security solutions
- Election surveillance systems
- Large-scale event monitoring
- IT infrastructure and system integration

Why He Started Innovatiview

Ashish observed several systemic issues in India's examination ecosystem:

- Frequent paper leaks
- Weak monitoring systems
- Logistical inefficiencies
- Limited accountability

Instead of accepting these challenges, he built a technology-first company to address them at scale, ensuring fairness and credibility in public systems.

Key Achievements

Under his leadership, Innovatiview has achieved remarkable scale:

- 6,687+ examinations secured
- 17+ crore candidates monitored via CCTV
- 19+ crore candidates verified using biometrics
- 24 lakh candidates managed in a single day
- Operations across 28 states and 9 Union Territories

Major Projects and Contributions

Innovatiview has supported several large-scale initiatives, including:

- National-level exams such as NEET, IIT-JEE, and UPSC
- State Public Service Commission examinations
- Election monitoring across multiple states
- Large public events like Kumbh Mela

This wide range of work highlights Ashish Mittal's influence across examinations, elections, and event security.

Technology and Innovation

Ashish Mittal has been instrumental in integrating advanced technologies into public systems:

- AI-based CCTV surveillance
- Biometric verification systems
- GPS tracking technologies
- VoIP communication systems
- Real-time command and control centers
- Predictive fraud detection

His biggest contribution lies in shifting systems from manual monitoring to intelligent, AI-driven prevention models.

Leadership Style

Ashish Mittal's leadership approach is inspired by Ratan Tata.

Core Principles:

- Execution over ideas
- Trust over short-term gains
- Purpose-driven innovation
- Team-centric growth

He emphasizes that while innovation creates advantage, consistent execution builds long-term trust.

Vision for the Future

Ashish Mittal aims to scale Innovatiview into a nationwide infrastructure platform by:

- Developing Computer-Based Test (CBT) centers
- Expanding operations across South India
- Advancing AI-powered fraud detection
- Building remote examination monitoring systems

Legacy and Impact

Ashish Mittal has significantly reshaped India's examination ecosystem by introducing transparency, accountability, and trust through technology.

His work ensures that:

- Merit is protected
- Systems remain accountable
- Opportunities are fairly distributed

His mission reflects a deeper purpose—ensuring that every candidate gets a fair chance in life.
