

Bad Bunny Is Going Live... Wait, It's Easter

GameTimeTec Launches Bad Bunny's Notorious Eggs (Hold & Win) with a Global Streaming Event

Singapore, Singapore Apr 1, 2026 (Issuewire.com) - Bad Bunny is going live... wait, it's Easter.

Just in time for the season, Bad Bunny's Notorious Eggs (Hold & Win) is now live — and already shaping up to be one of the most talked-about slot releases of 2026. Developed by GameTimeTec under its ShowTime Slots banner, this is not your typical Easter slot.

From the first look, the game stands out. A bold, stage-ready bunny takes center stage, surrounded by vibrant eggs, lights, and high-energy visuals that feel more like a live performance than a traditional slot experience.

But the launch goes beyond the game itself.

To mark the release, GameTimeTec has partnered with ten leading slot streamers across Latin America, Europe, and beyond, all going live today in a synchronized global event. Streaming in five languages, these creators are playing the game live with real money and real reactions — completely unscripted.

From Brazil to Canada, from Portugal to Spain, players can tune in right now to watch every spin, every bonus trigger, and every big win unfold in real time.

At its core, Bad Bunny's Notorious Eggs (Hold & Win) combines a festive Easter theme with a high-energy presentation and its signature Hold & Win feature, designed to keep players engaged as the action builds.

With a strong character identity and a launch built around real-time community engagement, GameTimeTec once again turns a slot release into a shared experience.

This Easter, the Bunny isn't hiding eggs.
He's taking over the stage.
