

Custom Outfitters Expands Premium Range of Ford Ranger Accessories in Sydney

New additions include upgraded bull bars, roof racks, and Next Gen Ranger solutions designed for Australian conditions

Sydney, New South Wales May 9, 2026 (IssueWire.com) - Custom Outfitters, a Sydney-based 4x4 accessories specialist, has expanded its product range to better support the growing demand for high-quality Ford Ranger upgrades across Australia. The updated lineup focuses on durability, fitment, and real-world performance, offering practical solutions for both work and off-road use.

The expansion strengthens Custom Outfitters' position as a trusted supplier of Ford Ranger accessories, with products designed to suit multiple model generations, including the latest releases. By focusing on vehicle-specific solutions, the business aims to eliminate common aftermarket issues such as poor fitment and inconsistent performance.

Among the key additions are enhanced ford ranger bull bar options, developed to provide reliable front-end protection while maintaining compatibility with modern vehicle features. These upgrades are built to handle demanding environments, making them suitable for both everyday driving and more challenging conditions.

The expanded range also includes improved ford ranger roof rack systems, offering greater versatility for carrying tools, equipment, and touring gear. Designed for strength and stability, these solutions allow drivers to maximise storage without compromising vehicle performance.

In response to the increasing popularity of newer models, Custom Outfitters has also introduced a broader selection of next gen ranger accessories. These products are specifically engineered for the latest Ford Ranger platform, ensuring seamless integration and consistent performance without the need for modification.

Additional styling upgrades, including ford ranger grille options, have also been added to the range, allowing customers to refine the appearance of their vehicles while maintaining a clean and functional design.

Custom Outfitters continues to focus on delivering practical, high-quality 4x4 solutions backed by real-world experience. With an emphasis on reliability and proper fitment, the business supports customers in building vehicles that perform consistently across a variety of conditions.

The expanded product range is now available through Custom Outfitters, with options suitable for both individual upgrades and complete vehicle setups.
