

Estrella Móvil's ESTRELLA-ORIGIN Now in Orbit, Demonstrating Successful Performance in Active Conflict Zones

Barcelona, Catalunya Apr 30, 2026 (Issuewire.com) - Estrella Móvil today confirmed that ESTRELLA-ORIGIN since its successful launch, is fully operational in orbit, and is actively demonstrating its capabilities to clients operating in areas of conflict and high-risk environments.

Now on-station, ESTRELLA-ORIGIN is delivering secure communications, ISR, RF surveillance, and low-latency optical intelligence in real mission conditions. The satellite's performance in orbit validates its design objective: to provide tactically responsive, real-time intelligence with rapid tasking and delivery cycles.

Proven Capabilities in Orbit

Since achieving operational orbit, ESTRELLA-ORIGIN has demonstrated:

- Secure, resilient communications in contested and degraded environments
- ISR and RF surveillance across broad operational theaters
- Low-latency optical intelligence supporting time-sensitive decision-making
- Rapid retasking, delivering actionable intelligence within 90 minutes of tasking to track moving threats

These live demonstrations are providing clients with direct visibility into how space-based assets can support operations where timing, accuracy, and reliability are critical.

Unique Electronic Countermeasure Functionality

ESTRELLA-ORIGIN is also validating its advanced electronic countermeasure design in orbit. The platform is engineered to be the only satellite of its class capable of jamming satellites and low-flying objects when required for protective or defensive missions in sensitive operational scenarios.

Designed for Modern Operational Demands

The successful on-orbit performance of ESTRELLA-ORIGIN underscores a new approach to space systems—one focused on speed, adaptability, and multi-domain awareness for modern threat environments.

“Seeing ESTRELLA-ORIGIN perform in real operational conditions confirms the vision behind this platform,” said Chris, a spokesperson for Estrella Móvil. “Clients are witnessing firsthand how rapidly taskable space intelligence can change outcomes on the ground.”
