

Matt Boone Reflects on Roots, Resilience, and "Goodbye Hometown"

Award-Winning Country Music Artist Returns with a Powerful New Single (Coming Soon).

Nashville, Tennessee Apr 15, 2026 (Issuewire.com) - Award-winning artist Matt Boone is set to release his most personal single to date, "Goodbye Hometown," a poignant look at the complexities of staying true to one's roots while chasing a dream that stretches far beyond city limits. Goodbye Hometown will be released on April 27, 2026, on all music platforms. The single will be available for pre-order on April 24, 2026.

Recorded at the legendary East Iris Studios in Nashville, "Goodbye Hometown" is more than just a song; it is a testament to Boone's journey from a small town in West Tennessee to the biggest stages in country music.

"I grew up in a small town in West Tennessee that I have always loved; it will always be a part of my roots," says Boone. "My entire life has been spent giving back to that community, sharing the talent God gave me through benefit shows and fundraisers. But the journey hasn't always been easy. While many locals have been in my corner, supporting me every step of the way, there have been others who chose to turn their backs or ignore the successes that allowed our hometown to shine."

The track serves as a heartfelt thank you to those who never missed a beat—including the late WTRB radio station—and a firm message to the doubters. Boone's career has seen him reach the "Grammy world," appear on national TV and radio, and, most recently, perform on the hallowed Grand Ole Opry House stage with Lorrie Morgan during the Josie Music Awards.

"It takes a lot to pursue this life, and your family often takes the back seat while you're busy giving to others," Boone shares. "I'm content and in awe of the blessings God has provided. This song is for those who always doubted me. It's a reminder to keep chasing your dreams, no matter how big or small, and to always stay humble. I will always shine in the eyes of God."
