

Sansovi GCC by GoodWorks Launches AI-Powered Platform to Simplify Global Capability Center Setup in India

Unified GCC-as-a-Service platform enables global enterprises to build, operate, and scale offshore teams with speed, flexibility, and zero CapEx.

Bengaluru, Karnataka Apr 10, 2026 (IssueWire.com) - Sansovi GCC by GoodWorks, a next-generation Global Capability Center (GCC) solutions provider, has announced the launch of its unified GCC-as-a-Service platform designed to help global enterprises seamlessly establish, manage, and scale operations in India.

The platform brings together infrastructure, talent acquisition, technology delivery, and compliance into a single integrated solution, enabling companies to build high-performing offshore teams with reduced complexity and faster time-to-market.

As organizations increasingly adopt GCC models to drive innovation and operational efficiency, Sansovi aims to eliminate traditional barriers associated with setting up and managing global operations. The company's end-to-end offering allows businesses to focus on strategic outcomes while Sansovi manages execution across all operational layers.

Built on the strong foundation of the GoodWorks Group, Sansovi leverages over a decade of expertise in technology, workspace infrastructure, and talent solutions. The platform integrates capabilities across managed office spaces, AI-driven hiring systems, and enterprise-grade technology delivery to support scalable and future-ready operations.

“Global enterprises today require more than just cost efficiency—they need agility, innovation, and access to world-class talent,” said a spokesperson for Sansovi GCC. “Sansovi is designed to deliver a fully integrated ecosystem that enables companies to build and scale Global Capability Centers with speed and confidence.”

Sansovi’s GCC-as-a-Service model offers a turnkey approach that includes legal and entity setup, workspace provisioning, talent acquisition, compliance management, and ongoing operational support. This allows organizations to launch operations in weeks rather than months while maintaining full control and governance.

India continues to emerge as a leading destination for Global Capability Centers, driven by its vast talent pool, strong digital infrastructure, and favorable business environment. Sansovi aims to play a key role in accelerating this growth by providing enterprises with a streamlined and scalable pathway to establish their presence in the region.

With its full-stack capabilities and AI-driven approach, Sansovi GCC by GoodWorks is positioned to support enterprises across industries in building high-impact global operations and driving long-term business transformation.
