Experienced A/V installer brings safer, cleaner TV mounting solutions to local homeowners

Cromwell, Connecticut Apr 29, 2026 (Issuewire.com) - As more homeowners invest in larger TVs and modern home entertainment systems, the demand for professional installation services continues to grow. Improper TV mounting has become a common issue, often leading to unstable installations, wall damage, and poor viewing experiences.

TV Install Pro, a Connecticut-based A/V installation company with over 18 years of experience, is expanding its TV installation and home audio services across Cromwell, Hartford, Middletown, and New Haven. According to the company, many homeowners underestimate the complexity of mounting a TV, especially in older homes with plaster walls, brick fireplaces, or non-standard framing.

TV mounting may look simple, but we regularly see installations where the TV was secured into drywall without proper support or placed too high for comfortable viewing, said a company representative. “These issues may not be obvious at first, but they can create long-term safety risks. The company provides a range of services including TV wall mounting, fireplace installations, hidden wire setups, and home audio system installation. Each installation is customized based on wall type, structure, and optimal viewing height to ensure a safe and clean result. TV installation services typically range from $250 to $650 depending on the size of the TV, wall material, and complexity of the setup. Standard installations are usually completed within 1–2 hours, while more advanced installations involving wire concealment or integrated audio systems may take up to 4 hours.

All services are backed by a one-year workmanship warranty, ensuring that any installation-related issues are resolved at no additional cost. With a background in computer science from Southern Connecticut State University and extensive experience in smart home systems, structured wiring, and networked A/V equipment, the company focuses on delivering reliable and long-lasting installation solutions.
