

Chicago Genre-Bending Duo Rising Stars Ana & Gene Set to Drop Two Highly Anticipated New Singles on May 15

The consecutive global award-winning duo teams up with their band “The Scene” to launch two self-produced social impact anthems tackling addictions and self-acceptance.

Chicago, Illinois May 13, 2026 (Issuewire.com) - Rising Chicago stars and genre-bending duo Ana &

Gene announce the simultaneous release of two self-produced singles this Friday, May 15, 2026. Acting as equal lead vocalists with signature harmonies, the pair wrote these upcoming tracks as message-driven social impact anthems addressing addictions and self-acceptance. Fans can check out the new music videos directly on the Official Youtube Channel. This dual release builds on massive momentum for the duo. Last year, Ana & Gene were finalists at both the Josie Music Awards and the ISSA Music Awards. They followed this success with wins at the Global Music Awards and the European International Music Awards. Driven by heavy global radio play, their hit singles "Keep on Giving You Love" and "Narcissistic You" both hit Number 1 on the European Independent Charts and the Worldwide Independent Hot 100 Single Chart. To celebrate the drop, Ana & Gene have shared an unedited 28-second video from their recording session. The clip features Ana tracking live vocals inside the isolation booth while Gene sings and plays rhythm guitar alongside their band, "The Scene"—featuring Michael O'Connor on electric bass and Mike Anseimo on drums. The tracks also feature guest musicians Tamron Wochok on lead electric guitar and David Kellen on keyboards.
