

Eric Protein Moseley's "Protein the Past" Leads the Way for New AI Initiative

DVD: Documented Voices of Destination

New York City, New York May 10, 2026 (IssueWire.com) - Eric Protein Moseley's "Protein the Past" Leads the Way for New AI Initiative:

DVD: Documented Voices of Destination

Eric Protein Moseley and Coolest Cowboy Records/Empathy for AI Initiative are officially announcing DVD: Documented Voices of Destination. Led by the success of Moseley's premier AI persona, Protein the Past, and several of his other artist, this initiative provides policy makers with a sonic map to distinguish between the three specific classes of the homeless population. This video and Musical audio will help policy makers understand, there's no one sized fits all solution when combating homelessness.

Protein the Past has paved the way for this project, proving that AI can bridge a 50-year musical gap—a journey that began with Moseley's early desire to become a rapper. That dream was deferred when he became a single, homeless father, battling addiction from coast to coast for nearly two decades before fighting his way back into the mainstream.

He has since turned his lived experience and his fictional songwriting ability into a powerful platform, launching several of the the first AI artist within thier uniqueness with a documented identity and a mission through his Impathy for AI Initiative (as mentioned in the BK Reader).

By using this same proven technology, Moseley is collaborating with three different groups homeless individuals to write and produce songs in their preferred styles—whether hip-hop, rock, or blues (etc)—ensuring their voices reach a global audience on Apple Music and beyond to free platforms such as Youtube .

He is also looking for a fiscal sponcer with simular mission and goals."I'm not talking about what I've seen; I'm talking about where I've been," says Moseley, who has navigated the 1st, 2nd, and 3rd classes of homelessness himself.

"I know that time on the street doesnt mean everything. Someone can be chronically homeless and still be 1st Class with a heart for the hustle, someone else can hit the street on day one and fall into the 3rd Class lifestyle. I've been through all three classes and in between."

Protein the Past showed that you can come back after launching his "50 Years Musical Comback" project ,stimming from a failed rap career due to homelessness and a chemical dependecy dating back to the early 1980s and his dreams of becoming a rapper date back to 1976- the beginning of the Hip-Hop era.

Now, we are using that success to let policy makers finally hear the difference between these classes of homelessness so they can set policy that actually works and that are taylord to each groups uniquely requirements.

The DVD project is a direct response to the "one-size-fits-all" legislation that often fails the unhoused.

The high-level production allows leaders to distinguish between those fighting to reintegrate and those who have surrendered to the lifestyle, ensuring that aid is targeted effectively based on destination and mindset rather than just time spent on the pavement.

This project will consist of Music that will reach major platforms along with video recordings of the project which will become a short documentary.
