Transition Specialist, certified inspector, and private money broker with Pivotal Capital Supply. Serving clients throughout New Castle County and the surrounding areas. Gary brings a uniquely well-rounded approach to real estate—combining technical expertise, financial insight, and deep commitment to helping people navigate life’s important transitions.

A Senior Transition Specialist dedicated to advocating for seniors and their families during one of the most critical phases of life. He provides guidance on locating appropriate senior living options, including independent and assisted living communities, while also assisting with the often complex process of transitioning from a longtime home. His services extend beyond placement, offering support with asset liquidation to ensure clients have the financial resources needed to secure quality care. Helping individuals transition to new environments with empathy, clarity, and a focus on long-term well-being.

In addition to his work with seniors, he is an experienced residential and commercial inspector who enjoys being in the field, connecting directly with clients, and guiding them through the technical aspects of property evaluation and preservation. His ability to clearly communicate findings and next steps helps clients make informed decisions with confidence.

As a private money broker and real estate investor, Gary specializes in fix-and-flip projects as well as buy-and-hold strategies. His multifaceted background enables him to serve as a trusted advisor across a wide range of real estate needs.

Gary is actively involved in his community through his work with the Society for Senior Advisors and Mom’s House, organizations dedicated to connecting seniors and their families with essential resources for transitioning into independent or assisted living. His commitment to service extends beyond transactions, reflecting his belief in the importance of building strong, supportive communities.

At the core of Gary’s work is a passion for connection. As a skilled communicator, he prioritizes setting clear expectations, helping clients manage the emotional aspects of major decisions, and delivering solutions designed for long-term success. He credits his parents for instilling in him a strong work ethic, a commitment to education, and the drive to exceed expectations—values that continue to shape his professional and personal life.

Outside of his career, Gary values time spent with his family, particularly caring for and sharing meaningful moments with his father. He also enjoys cooking and maintaining his home, creating a space that reflects comfort and care.

Through his diverse expertise and people-centered approach, Gary Artist continues to make a meaningful impact—helping clients achieve their goals while navigating real estate, investment, and life transitions with confidence and peace of mind.
