

HobbyScool Announces Art of Expression Summit for Artists, Makers & Creatives

Free Three-Day Virtual Event Takes Place May 19–21, 2026

Alpharetta, Georgia May 1, 2026 (Issuewire.com) - HobbyScool, the online creative learning platform known for bringing makers and creatives together, is opening registration for the Art of Expression Summit — a free, three-day virtual event scheduled for May 19–21, 2026.

The summit was built for artists, makers, and creative enthusiasts at every skill level who want to develop their creative voice, explore self-expression through art, and experience the connection between creativity and emotional healing. No fine art background or expensive materials required.

Thirty expert artists, makers, and writers will lead hands-on sessions across three days, covering expressive art, creative communication, and healing through artistic practice. Each session is structured to give attendees practical techniques they can actually use — not theory, but real skills that fit into everyday creative life.

"So many people carry a creative voice inside them that they've never fully expressed — because they don't feel 'good enough' or don't know where to start. The Art of Expression Summit was created to change that. We want every attendee to walk away with real skills, a deeper understanding of their own creative voice, and the confidence to make work that truly means something." — Dr. Destini Copp, Founder, HobbyScool

Summit sessions span a broad range of creative disciplines: watercolor painting, calligraphy and hand lettering, mixed media and art journaling, expressive and intuitive abstract painting, encaustic art, digital design and Procreate, bullet journaling, creative writing and memoir, faith-based art journaling, and using handmade clothing as personal expression.

The event is 100% virtual, open to participants worldwide. Free registration includes access to all live sessions. An optional VIP All-Access Pass unlocks lifetime replay access to all 30 sessions plus 22 exclusive bonus resources — a combined value of over $1,991.
