

Pamila Peters: Director Of Social Services At Trilogy Inc Services LLC And Perioperative Technician In Anesthesia

Healthcare and Human Services Professional Combines Pediatric Care, Behavioral Health Experience, and Community-Focused Leadership to Support Individuals and Families Across Central Ohio

Columbus, Ohio May 29, 2026 (IssueWire.com) - Pamila Peters is a dedicated healthcare and human services professional whose career reflects a longstanding commitment to advocacy, compassionate care, and improving the lives of vulnerable individuals and families. With extensive experience spanning pediatric healthcare, behavioral health, developmental disability services, and social services leadership, Pamila continues to make a meaningful impact through both clinical and administrative roles focused on supporting community well-being.

Pamila currently serves as the Director of Social Services at Trilogy Inc Services LLC, where she oversees social services operations, supports program development initiatives, and works to ensure clients receive coordinated, effective, and compassionate care. In this leadership position, she brings a strong focus on advocacy, service accessibility, and individualized support while helping strengthen programs designed to improve outcomes for those facing complex personal and healthcare challenges.

In addition to her administrative leadership role, Pamila serves as a Perioperative Technician in Anesthesia at Nationwide Children's Hospital in Columbus, Ohio, a position she has held since 2023. Working in a fast-paced pediatric surgical environment, she supports anesthesia teams during operative procedures and plays an important role in maintaining patient safety and efficiency throughout the surgical process. Her contributions help ensure high-quality care for children and families navigating critical medical situations.

Pamila's professional background also includes significant experience in behavioral health and developmental disability services. She previously worked as a Mental Health Specialist within the hospital's Behavioral Health Pavilion, where she supported youth experiencing mental health crises and stabilization needs. Her ability to connect with patients and families during difficult moments has become one of the defining characteristics of her professional approach.

"When I encounter a client, patient, family member, or team member going through their toughest moments, I strive to connect with them deeply to understand what they need," says Pamila. "I gently guide them towards coping skills, sharing that these are strategies I personally use myself. I do my best to connect them with providers, assuring them that if they give their all, these resources and support systems can help them see that better days are possible."

She adds, "Every day, I approach my work with the heartfelt hope that, for at least one person, I can make their day a little brighter. Making a positive, lasting difference in the lives of those I care for or work with is what brings me the greatest fulfillment."

Since 2008, Pamila has also served as an independent provider for the Franklin County Board of Developmental Disabilities, further demonstrating her long-term dedication to supporting individuals with developmental and intellectual disabilities. Her professional certifications include Therapeutic Crisis Intervention (TCI), AED, CPR, and first aid for all ages.

Guided by compassion, resilience, and a deep commitment to children's mental health and community advocacy, Pamila Peters continues to expand her impact through leadership, clinical service, and meaningful support for individuals and families throughout Central Ohio.
