

Producer Dmytrii Dvorak Arrives in Riga to Find Female Voice for New Band “STEKLO”

The StarPulse Universe founder brings his analog sound philosophy to Latvia, seeking a powerful female voice for his new band STEKLO. Dvorak looks for authentic, raw talent to lead a project built on true musicality.

Riga, Latvia May 11, 2026 (IssueWire.com) - Dmytrii Dvorak, the visionary founder of the StarPulse Universe, has officially arrived in Riga to begin a high-stakes talent search.

The mission: to find a powerhouse lead vocalist and a full female lineup for his provocative new musical project, "STEKLO".

Known for his uncompromising commitment to analog sound and the physical signal, Dvorak has chosen Riga as the primary base to assemble a group that will challenge the status quo of the modern pop market.

STEKLO is not just a band, it is a sonic shift, blending deep electronic influences with high-fidelity production that favors raw, authentic textures over mass-produced trends.

"I'm here to find voices and personalities that can carry a new frequency", says Dmytrii Dvorak.

"The pop market is ready for a change, we are looking for artists in Riga who aren't afraid to be part of something that sounds unlike anything else currently on the airwaves".

Starting May 13th, Dvorak will be scouting the local scene, meeting with potential candidates who possess the range, stage presence, and aesthetic required to front this ambitious venture.

By prioritizing true musicality and innovative soundscapes, the project aims to set a new standard for electronic-infused pop music globally.

Ambitious vocalists and performers in the Baltic region who are ready to redefine the industry are encouraged to reach out during Dvorak's stay in the capital.
