

SA Fab Highlights the Rising Demand for Lightweight Cotton Kurtis for Summer 2026

SA Fab introduces breathable cotton kurtis featuring spaghetti straps, noodle strap silhouettes, and halter neck styles designed for modern summer fashion.

Bagru, Rajasthan May 15, 2026 (Issuewire.com) - As summer fashion continues shifting toward lightweight and breathable silhouettes, handcrafted fashion brand SA Fab is highlighting the growing popularity of modern cotton kurtis designed for comfort-driven styling in 2026.

The collection focuses on relaxed summer-ready silhouettes including spaghetti style kurtis, noodle strap kurtis, and halter neck kurtis crafted using breathable cotton fabrics and artisan-inspired prints. The designs combine contemporary aesthetics with handcrafted textile influences inspired by Jaipur's traditional cotton fashion culture.

According to the brand, modern consumers are increasingly looking for versatile ethnic wear that balances comfort, minimal styling, and effortless summer dressing. Lightweight cotton kurtis are becoming especially popular among younger shoppers and working professionals seeking breathable daily wear options during warmer months.

The collection includes hand block inspired prints, soft cotton textures, relaxed fits, and easy-to-style silhouettes suitable for casual outings, travel, brunch styling, and contemporary ethnic fashion.
