

Sahara CyberStars Relishes Power in 'I Am the Land'

'I Am the Land' by Sahara CyberStars blends calm sound and inspiring lyrics on identity and place, lifted by sincere vocals that stay with the listeners till the end.

Stawell, May 7, 2026 (Issuewire.com) - Sahara CyberStars step into a reflective space with the duo's newest release, 'I Am the Land'. This Irish Australian Singer/Songwriter duo, Trish and Dave Long, have spent years with their music, and this time, they have brought their A-game to the audience. This song leans into meaning rather than noise, with the composition unfolding patiently. The production builds an exciting yet steady atmosphere where the music and message of the track move together. Lyrically, the track holds a strong sense of place and belonging. The verses are written with such confidence that the listeners are immediately drawn to the entire discography. Originally from Dublin, Ireland, the duo has always loved making music. This time, they have taken their love to the next level with this new release.

The song speaks about identity, connection, and the deeper bond between people and the land they come from. At the same time, it states its message clearly. Sahara CyberStars has delivered sincere and controlled vocals that made the message even greater. Dave Long and Trish Long bring a balance to the track that makes the song hit harder for the audience. Their voices complement each other so much, adding greater depth to the narrative. 'I Am the Land' is one such song that listeners will not be able to stop listening to. The track continues with the duo's approach to making music that stays with the audience. It demands their attention and makes them stay with every note and every verse till the very end.
