

Tara Wellman, HT (ASCP), Advances Laboratory Excellence Through Precision and Diagnostic Expertise

Experienced Histology Technician at Labcorp Brings More Than Two Decades of Expertise in Cytology, Histology, Immunohistochemistry, and Laboratory Diagnostics

Albany, New York May 11, 2026 (IssueWire.com) - Tara Wellman is a highly experienced Histology Technician with more than 20 years of expertise in cytology, histology, and laboratory diagnostics. Throughout her career, she has built a strong reputation for precision, adaptability, and dedication to quality patient care through accurate specimen preparation, microscopic evaluation, and laboratory

Currently serving with Labcorp in Syracuse, New York, Tara continues to apply her extensive technical knowledge in cytology and grossing while supporting efficient laboratory workflows and high-quality specimen processing. In her current role, she is trained to assist across multiple laboratory functions as needed, reflecting both her versatility and commitment to clinical excellence.

Tara's expertise includes immunohistochemistry (IHC), immunofluorescence techniques on skin and kidney tissue, special stains, and the accurate reporting of abnormal specimens. She is also highly skilled in the use of advanced laboratory diagnostic equipment and possesses a strong command of medical terminology and pathology workflows.

Prior to joining Labcorp, Tara worked as a Grossing Technician at Adirondack Health, where she managed a wide variety of cytology and histology responsibilities. Her work included processing Pap smears, non-gynecological specimens, fine needle aspirations, bone marrow samples, and small biopsy grossing. She also held a senior role at Laboratory Alliance of Central New York, where she advanced to Senior Histotechnician and contributed to procedural writing, quality control initiatives, immunohistochemistry preparation, and specialized staining workflows.

In addition to her permanent laboratory roles, Tara gained extensive travel experience as a Histotechnician, supporting healthcare organizations across multiple states with varying diagnostic needs and high-volume slide processing demands. Her earlier long-term tenure at SUNY Upstate Medical University Hospital further strengthened her technical foundation through hands-on work in embedding, microtomy, staining, special stains, and immunohistochemistry.

Tara earned a Bachelor of Arts in Health and Wellness from SUNY Oswego and completed her Histology Technician Degree at Harford Community College. She is also an ASCP-Certified Histotechnologist (HT), demonstrating her ongoing commitment to professional excellence and industry standards.

Known for her strong ethical values, quality control expertise, and dedication to continuous learning, Tara Wellman remains committed to advancing laboratory diagnostics while supporting accurate, efficient, and patient-focused healthcare outcomes.
