The Foundation Behind TGC Capital Partners - Gateway Group, Reflects on 29 Years of Building Global Businesses

Amsterdam, Netherlands Aug 26, 2026 (Issuewire.com) - The 29-year-old group behind TGC Capital Partners brings together its global journey, operating businesses, and investment philosophy through its new digital presence at www.thegatewaycorp.com

For nearly three decades, Gateway Group has been building technology businesses, enabling digital transformation, and partnering with organizations navigating a rapidly changing technology landscape. As the group approaches its 30-year milestone, this moment represents more than a celebration of time. It is an opportunity to share the foundation, principles, and entrepreneurial journey behind Gateway, the values that have shaped its approach to building businesses across generations.

Founded on the belief that sustainable companies are built beyond numbers, Gateway has always focused on long-term value creation through trust, resilience, innovation, and responsible growth. Over the years, the group has evolved into a global technology ecosystem with 40+ companies, operations across 15 countries, and capabilities spanning software engineering, AI-led innovation, digital transformation, cybersecurity, and emerging technologies.

While technology has continuously transformed, Gateway's approach has remained consistent - combining entrepreneurial ownership, operational expertise, and a strong belief that successful businesses are built on strong foundations.

This philosophy forms the foundation of TGC Capital Partners, the strategic investment arm of Gateway Group. TGC Capital Partners represents Gateway's approach to partnering with technology entrepreneurs, bringing not only investment, but also nearly three decades of experience in building, scaling, and operating technology businesses.

For SaaS founders and technology companies looking to expand, Gateway brings the perspective of an operator. Through its global network, technology expertise, business experience, and access to an established ecosystem, TGC Capital Partners works alongside founders to support sustainable growth and long-term success.

Together, Gateway Group and TGC Capital Partners, represent a connected ecosystem built on one core belief: technology creates opportunities, but strong principles create businesses that last. As Gateway enters its fourth decade, the group continues to focus on building meaningful partnerships, supporting visionary entrepreneurs, and creating technology businesses prepared for the future.
