

The New FACTION Storytelling Method

Author Shobana Gomes Reveals the Inspiration Behind Her Innovative "Faction Storytelling Method"

Subang Jaya, Selangor May 19, 2026 (IssueWire.com) - Acquired tastes in literature often oscillate between the concrete realities of history and the imaginative realms of fiction. Today, celebrated Malaysian author and poet Shobana Gomes bridges this gap evocatively with the global introduction of her structured writing framework: the Faction Storytelling Method. Developed to elevate historical narratives, this unique creative blueprint seamlessly fuses meticulous, factual research with the evocative power of fiction, offering readers an entirely authentic yet deeply immersive literary experience.

The Faction Method arose from an innate desire to provide historical facts while honoring creative writing. Driven by a deep personal appreciation for nature, beauty, and life, Shobana set out to capitalize on complex human experiences with a profound sense of emotional clarity.

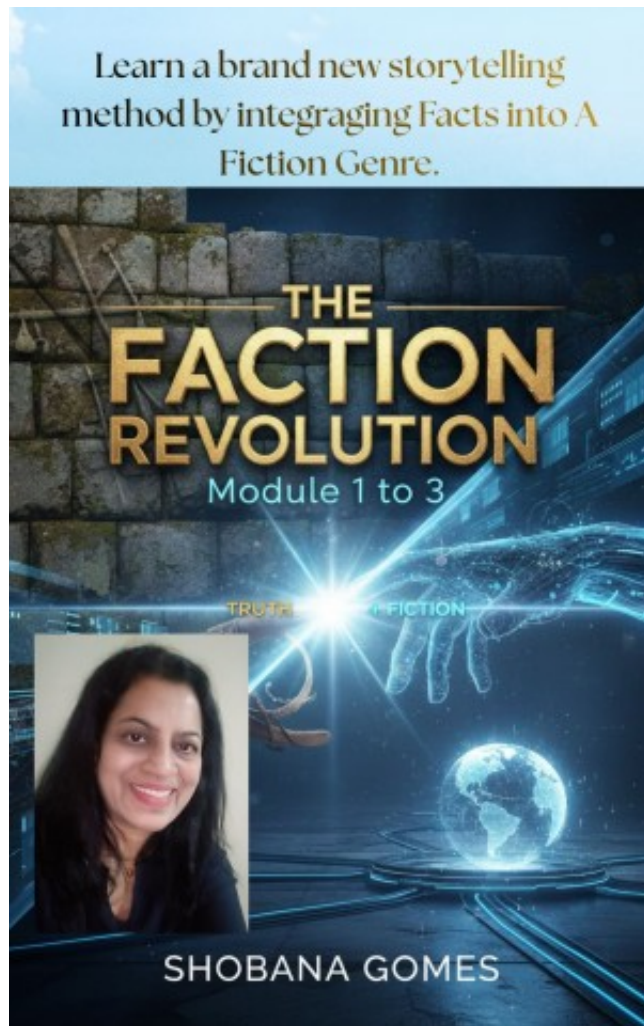

Her technique relies on the application of three core pillars:

- The Faction Framework: The structural art of balancing real-world issues, past and present, with compelling narrative arcs.
- The Zoning Method: A deliberate drafting technique that maps out historical boundaries to ensure creative prose is written with an analytical mind.
- The Veracity Shield: A self-editing standard designed to protect the integrity of factual events, locations, civilizations, and real cultural settings.

"FACTION teaches as it touches the heart," says Shobana Gomes. "By applying a structured method, an author can invite readers a glimpse into the past, ensuring that every historical conquest is felt deeply, without ever compromising the truth of what had taken place in an era, place, or civilization, while at the same time, entertaining with creative exuberance."

To empower aspiring writers, historians, novelists, and readers worldwide, Shobana has compiled this methodology into an accessible, step-by-step model guide. Creatives can now access the training directly via her latest release, The Faction Revolution—Modules 1-3.

An international speaker, panelist (her latest being lending her voice to the LACCS-UK, LACCS Worldwide Women's Forum, 2026), and award-winning published author, Shobana Gomes is actively sharing her insights with a global audience, empowering a new generation of writers to approach historical storytelling while inspiring a global trend in reading literature.
