

Unikoo Group Launches Nationwide Direct Shipping for SGCC-Certified Frameless Shower Doors with EnduroShield

Unikoo Group ships premium glass shower enclosures factory-direct to homeowners, contractors, and commercial builders across all 50 states.

Santa Ana, California May 6, 2026 (Issuewire.com) - Unikoo Group Inc., a Southern California-based manufacturer and direct supplier of premium glass and architectural hardware products, has announced the nationwide availability of its factory-direct frameless shower door systems and commercial glass hardware lines. The company now fulfills orders directly from its manufacturing facilities — spanning more than 100,000 square feet across three locations in Southern California and New Jersey — to residential homeowners, licensed contractors, interior designers, hotel developers, and commercial builders in all 50 states.

Unikoo Group's expansion addresses a persistent challenge in the U.S. home renovation and commercial construction market: the significant price markup applied to premium glass enclosures as products move through traditional retail distribution chains. By operating its own manufacturing and fulfillment infrastructure, the company eliminates intermediary costs and passes those savings to end customers — whether a homeowner undertaking a bathroom renovation or a procurement manager outfitting a multi-unit residential development.

The company's core product lines include the UKS04 Sliding Frameless Shower Door Series, the UKD01 Double Sliding Frameless Shower Door, and the UKH07 Swing Door Series. All shower enclosure glass panels are precision-cut from 3/8-inch SGCC-certified tempered glass, meeting U.S. safety standards for structural integrity and impact resistance. Each panel ships pre-treated with EnduroShield, a nano-coating technology that permanently bonds to glass surfaces and repels water, soap scum, and hard water mineral deposits — reducing cleaning time and extending the product's service life significantly compared to untreated glass.

Hardware components across all product lines are constructed from 316 and 304 grade marine-standard stainless steel, engineered to resist corrosion, moisture, and chemical exposure in demanding bathroom and commercial environments. Products in the UKS04 and UKD01 series feature reversible left-or-right door opening configurations and up to four inches of horizontal adjustability, allowing a single model to accommodate a wide range of bathroom opening widths without requiring custom fabrication. All required installation hardware and pre-drilled mounting components are included with every shipment.

"Whether it's a contractor working through a 25-unit building or a homeowner finally completing that bathroom remodel, the quality of the materials they have access to should not be determined by how many hands the product passed through," said a spokesperson for Unikoo Group. "Factory-direct is the answer to that — and it's what this company was built to deliver."

For projects with non-standard dimensions, Unikoo Group provides fully custom-cut glass panels fabricated to the client's exact measurements, with most custom orders processed and shipped within three to five business days. Wholesale pricing tiers and dedicated B2B account services are available for contractors, property developers, hotel operators, and commercial procurement teams managing multi-phase or high-volume projects.

Free nationwide shipping is available on select Sliding and Swing Door Series. Volume savings of $100 or more apply to purchases of two or more units, and a $50 first-order discount is automatically applied at checkout on qualifying orders. The full product catalog — including sliding and swing door systems, hand railing hardware, patch fittings, and glazing accessories — is available at www.unikoogroup.com.
