Sharjah, United Arab Emirates Jun 1, 2026 (Issuewire.com) - Advintek, a leading provider of e-invoicing, invoice automation, and ERP-integrated compliance solutions, today announced that it has received ASP approval in the UAE, marking a major milestone in the company's commitment to supporting businesses through the country's evolving digital tax and e-invoicing transformation.

The approval strengthens Advintek's role as a trusted technology partner for organizations preparing for UAE e-invoicing requirements. With deep expertise across ERP integrations, invoice validation workflows, automation, compliance monitoring, and business process digitization, Advintek is positioned to help companies simplify the transition from traditional invoicing to structured, compliant, and automated e-invoicing operations.

As businesses across the UAE prepare for the next phase of digital compliance, Advintek's approval reflects its readiness to deliver secure, scalable, and implementation-focused e-invoicing solutions for enterprises, mid-market companies, and growing businesses.

“This approval is a defining milestone for Advintek and for the businesses we serve in the UAE,” said Mr Surya Prakash, CEO of Advintek. “As a Global e-Invoicing Specialist serving organizations across more than 50 countries, we understand that e-invoicing is not just a compliance shift. It is a business transformation opportunity. Our goal is to help organizations move with clarity, confidence, and speed while building invoice operations that are accurate, automated, and future-ready.”

The UAE's move toward e-invoicing is expected to reshape how businesses generate, exchange, validate, and manage invoices. For finance, tax, ERP, and compliance teams, this shift requires more than software installation. It demands structured implementation, system readiness, data accuracy, workflow alignment, and long-term operational control.

Advintek's e-invoicing solution is designed to support these priorities through ERP-integrated invoice automation, configurable workflows, real-time validation support, audit-ready records, exception handling, and reporting visibility. The platform enables businesses to reduce manual invoice effort, improve process accuracy, and strengthen compliance readiness across finance operations.

“UAE businesses need more than a tool. They need a partner that understands ERP environments, compliance workflows, finance operations, and implementation realities,” said Sathish Jegadessan, Global SME, Advintek. “This approval reinforces our ability to support organizations through every stage of their e-invoicing journey, from readiness assessment to integration, testing, rollout, and ongoing support.”

Advintek's approach focuses on making e-invoicing adoption practical for businesses operating across different systems and industries. The company supports integrations with leading ERP and accounting platforms, helping organizations connect existing invoice processes with compliant digital workflows without unnecessary disruption.

The approval also comes at a critical time for businesses that are beginning to evaluate their internal e-invoicing readiness. Many organizations are reviewing data structures, ERP configurations, invoice formats, tax logic, approval workflows, archiving processes, and exception-handling mechanisms to prepare for future requirements. Advintek aims to help these businesses move beyond uncertainty and build a clear, phased implementation roadmap.

With ASP approval now in place, Advintek will continue expanding its UAE e-invoicing capabilities, industry-specific implementation support, and advisory-led engagement model. The company plans to work closely with finance leaders, tax teams, technology heads, and business owners to simplify adoption and ensure organizations are prepared for the operational and technical demands of e-invoicing.

The announcement reinforces Advintek's broader mission to help businesses modernize financial operations through automation, compliance intelligence, and trusted digital infrastructure.
