real estate firm built on the guiding principle that quality housing and meaningful investment opportunities go hand in hand. With 26 years of veteran experience in the Memphis multi-family sector, she has established a respected career focused on operational excellence, asset stabilization, and long-term community impact.

At the core of Arleast's leadership is a mission that extends beyond traditional property management. Through Evolve Management, she is committed to cultivating high-performing residential environments where families can thrive, and senior residents feel secure, supported, and valued. Her approach emphasizes not only financial performance but also the lived experience of residents within each community she manages.

Throughout her career, Arleast has earned a reputation as a disciplined, forward-thinking operator with a strong focus on structure and accountability. She leads through a vertically integrated management model that includes mandatory monthly reserve sweeps, an in-house maintenance dispatch network, and a structured quarterly cushion system. This proprietary framework is designed to protect cash flow, enhance operational efficiency, optimize Net Operating Income (NOI), and support long-term asset performance.

Her professional track record reflects a sustained commitment to regulatory excellence. Over more than two decades, Arleast has successfully guided properties through consecutive state and federal housing audits under the Tennessee Housing Development Agency (THDA), Memphis Housing Authority (MHA), and NSPIRE standards. She has long advocated for connecting residents with local agencies, emergency assistance programs, and community action networks. In her view, a well-supported tenant population is the foundation of a stable, high-performing real estate portfolio.

Evolve Management, LLC is currently pursuing market-rate and affordable value-add acquisitions in the 50- to 60-unit range throughout Tennessee. The firm continues to position itself as a trusted partner for equity investors seeking experienced, community-centered, and fully compliant management operations within the Memphis multi-family housing market.

Through her leadership, Arleast Michelle Dotson-Piggs continues to shape a model of real estate management that balances financial discipline with meaningful community impact.
