

AtheroCare Launches Wholesale Platform to Support Growing Demand for Heart Health Supplements

Dedicated wholesale website gives approved providers, clinics, health stores, pharmacies, and distributors worldwide a direct pathway to access AtheroCare products and improve local supply for customers.

Gold Coast, Queensland Jun 22, 2026 (IssueWire.com) - AtheroCare, a heart health supplement brand serving customers worldwide, has launched its dedicated wholesale platform to make it easier for approved providers, clinics, health stores, pharmacies, wellness businesses, and distributors to access AtheroCare products directly.

The new wholesale website, wholesale.atherocare.com, gives approved providers a structured way to order AtheroCare products at wholesale pricing, place repeat orders, and supply their own customers through a dedicated provider channel.

For customers, the expansion improves access to AtheroCare products through local stockists and approved providers. Local stock helps reduce reliance on long international delivery routes, supports faster local shipping, improves product availability, and gives customers easier access through businesses already serving their region.

Since launching in 2024, AtheroCare has built a growing international customer base, with strong demand from the United States and other key markets. The wholesale platform has been introduced to support this demand and give professional and retail partners a clearer way to work with AtheroCare as the company expands its provider-led distribution model.

“Our wholesale platform gives approved providers a more direct way to work with AtheroCare,” said Michael Saaranen, owner of AtheroCare. “It allows professionals, clinics, health stores, pharmacies, and distributors to access our products more easily, keep stock closer to customers, and support the growing number of people looking for heart health supplements.”

The platform has been designed for approved providers who want to stock, supply, or recommend AtheroCare products within their own business. This includes health professionals, clinics, pharmacies, wellness businesses, health stores, and distributors looking for a direct wholesale supply pathway.

The launch supports AtheroCare’s broader international growth strategy, with provider-led access being developed across key markets including the United States, Canada, the United Kingdom, Australia, and other regions where demand continues to grow.

AtheroCare’s heart health supplement range includes Magnesium Glycinate, Nattokinase, Vitamin D3 + K2, Co-Enzyme Q10, NAC, and AtheroCare’s Cyclodextrin range.

Health professionals, clinics, health stores, pharmacies, wellness businesses, and approved distributors can apply for wholesale access through the AtheroCare provider application page:
