

BizRnR Launches AI Receptionist for Real Estate Agents - Never Miss a Buyer or Seller Lead Again

New AI real estate assistant answers every call 24/7, qualifies buyers and sellers, and books showings while agents are out - capturing leads in seconds instead of losing them to voicemail.

San Diego, California Jun 11, 2026 (IssueWire.com) - BizRnR, an AI voice automation company, today launched its AI Receptionist for real estate — an always-on AI real estate assistant that answers every incoming call, qualifies buyer and seller leads, and books showings automatically, even when the agent is at a closing, in a showing, or asleep.

In real estate, speed-to-lead is everything. Industry research consistently shows that a lead contacted within the first five minutes is many times more likely to convert than one contacted an hour later — yet agents are almost never at their desk when the phone rings. Every missed call is a buyer who dialed the next sign, or a seller who booked a listing appointment with a competitor. BizRnR's AI Receptionist answers 97.8% of calls in under two rings, 24/7/365, so no lead ever hits voicemail again.

When a prospect calls, the AI Receptionist answers instantly in a natural, human-sounding voice, qualifies the lead (buyer or seller, price range, timeline, financing status, and property of interest), books the showing or listing appointment directly onto the agent's calendar, texts the agent an instant summary with a full transcript, and logs every lead to a built-in CRM that also integrates with Salesforce and HubSpot.

Alongside the AI Receptionist, BizRnR offers the AI Business Page, a structured profile designed to make an agent or brokerage discoverable by AI answer engines like ChatGPT, Gemini, Claude and Perplexity. As more buyers and sellers ask AI assistants "who's the best real estate agent near me?" BizRnR's Answer Engine Optimization (AEO) approach helps agents show up in those AI-generated recommendations.

"Real estate is a speed business — the agent who answers first wins the client," said Kristian Peter, CEO of BizRnR. "But you can't show a house and answer the phone at the same time. Our AI Receptionist makes sure every buyer and seller who calls gets a warm, instant, professional response and a booked appointment — even when you're standing in someone's kitchen closing a deal."

The BizRnR AI Receptionist is available now at $99 per month, including 100 AI interactions, with additional interactions at $0.20 each. An Enterprise tier for teams and brokerages offers custom pricing. Agents and brokerages can get started at <https://bizrnr.com/>.
