

Dr. Neil Gorin — Trusted, Board-Certified Orthodontist Serving Brooklyn with Personalized, Proven Care

Dr. Gorin's board certification by the American Board of Orthodontists Serving Brooklyn and Lynbrook New York with Personalized, Proven Care

Lynbrook, New York Jun 19, 2026 (IssueWire.com) - Dr. Neil Gorin, a board-certified orthodontist with more than three decades of clinical experience, continues to provide Brooklyn residents with personalized, evidence-based orthodontic care at Gorin Orthodontics. Certified by the American Board of Orthodontists in 1995, Dr. Gorin combines deep clinical expertise, time-tested treatment methods, and a patient-first philosophy to deliver predictable, high-quality results for children, teens, and adults.

A Commitment to Board-Certified Excellence

Dr. Gorin's board certification by the American Board of Orthodontists represents a rigorous standard of knowledge, skill, and ongoing professional development. Board certification goes beyond a dental degree, requiring additional specialty training in orthodontics, successful completion of challenging examinations, and demonstration of clinical proficiency. For families and adults seeking orthodontic care in Brooklyn, Dr. Gorin's certification signals a commitment to clinical excellence and the highest standards in the specialty.

Personalized, Proven Treatment — No Gimmicks

At Gorin Orthodontics, the focus is on straightforward, effective treatment tailored to each patient's anatomy and goals. Dr. Gorin does not use self-ligating brackets, preferring traditional bracket systems that he has used and refined throughout his career. This approach emphasizes meticulous technique, careful case planning, and individualized mechanics that deliver consistent, high-quality outcomes.

Patients who prioritize clinician experience and predictable results appreciate Dr. Gorin's emphasis on established, evidence-based protocols. The practice does not participate in promotional trends such as "diamond provider" programs, and avoids adjunctive devices like Propel that are marketed as shortcuts to faster movement. Instead, Dr. Gorin relies on sound biomechanics, thoughtful appliance selection, and close monitoring to achieve efficient and stable results.

A Practice Built on Personal Care

Gorin Orthodontics is structured to maintain a close doctor-patient relationship. The practice does not employ hygienists, allowing Dr. Gorin and his skilled clinical team to maintain direct oversight of treatment planning, appliance adjustments, and patient education. This streamlined model fosters continuity of care, strong communication, and a consistent standard of treatment delivery.

Dr. Gorin also does not treat patients for temporomandibular joint (TMJ) disorders as part of his orthodontic practice. Instead, he focuses exclusively on the diagnosis and correction of malocclusion — aligning teeth and jaws to improve function, esthetics, and oral health. When patients present with TMJ-related symptoms, Dr. Gorin evaluates and, when appropriate, refers them to qualified specialists for comprehensive management.

Why Experience Matters

Orthodontic treatment is a blend of science, biomechanics, and artistry. Years of clinical practice hone an orthodontist's ability to anticipate tooth movement, manage complex biomechanics, and adapt plans when individual responses vary. Dr. Gorin's extensive experience enables him to deliver efficient, predictable results while minimizing unnecessary procedures or experimental interventions. For patients who value stability, conservative decision-making, and a clinician who has refined his craft over decades, Gorin Orthodontics offers a compelling option.
