Food Truck Industry in Orlando

Three-day event will connect food truck owners, entrepreneurs, manufacturers, suppliers, technology providers, financial institutions, and industry professionals—creating the complete ecosystem for the food truck business.

Food Truck Expo 2026 is set to become one of the nation's premier business events dedicated to the food truck industry, bringing together food truck owners, aspiring entrepreneurs, manufacturers, equipment suppliers, technology companies, financial institutions, service providers, and food enthusiasts for three days of networking, education, business development, and innovation.

Taking place November 20–22, 2026, in Orlando, Florida, the Food Truck Expo offers a unique opportunity for attendees to discover everything needed to start, operate, or grow a successful food truck business—all under one roof.

Unlike traditional food festivals, the Food Truck Expo is designed as a complete business ecosystem where entrepreneurs can meet the companies that will help turn an idea into a thriving business. Visitors will have direct access to food truck and food trailer manufacturers, kitchen equipment suppliers, POS and restaurant technology providers, merchant cash advance and financing companies, insurance providers, payment processing companies, marketing agencies, commissary operators, business consultants, and many other professional service providers that support the mobile food industry.

The expo will also feature a vibrant B2C Food Truck Area, where local food truck operators will serve thousands of visitors throughout the event. This dedicated area gives participating food trucks the opportunity to generate sales, introduce their brands to new customers, and build lasting relationships with the community while creating an exciting culinary experience for attendees.

One of the signature attractions of the event will be the Food Truck Awards, celebrating excellence across multiple food categories, including Best Taco Food Truck, Best Burger Food Truck, Best Pizza Food Truck, Best BBQ Food Truck, Best Coffee Truck, Best Dessert Truck, Best Halal Food Truck, and many more. The competition will recognize outstanding food trucks while providing winners with valuable exposure before industry leaders, media representatives, food influencers, and thousands of attendees.

The Food Truck Expo is also committed to empowering future entrepreneurs by connecting individuals who are considering launching a food truck business with the builders, lenders, equipment suppliers, technology providers, and professional services they need to transform their vision into reality.

“The food truck industry continues to grow at an incredible pace, but success depends on having access to the right partners, products, and knowledge,” said Tareq Jarour, Founder of Food Truck Expo. “Our vision is to create one place where the entire industry comes together—from entrepreneurs taking their first step to established operators looking to expand. We want to help businesses start, build, grow, and succeed while creating new economic opportunities for communities across the country.”

Throughout his 20+ year career organizing trade shows, exhibitions, conferences, and business events, Tareq Jarour has focused on creating events that generate meaningful economic impact while supporting and empowering small and medium-sized businesses. The Food Truck Expo continues that mission by providing a marketplace where entrepreneurs can connect directly with manufacturers, suppliers, investors, service providers, and customers, helping businesses grow while contributing to the local economy.

The Holiday Inn Resort serves as the Official Hotel of the event, with the Convention Center located next door, providing attendees and exhibitors with convenient access to the expo while enjoying resort-style accommodations.

Exhibitor registration and attendee registration are now open.
