Portland, Oregon Jun 11, 2026 (IssueWire.com) - Prolific author Nikki Broadwell, whose body of work now spans 30 published titles, announces the release of her latest novel, Burning Night — a searing story of escape, danger, and unexpected love set against the wild backdrop of an Alaskan festival.

About the Book

When a woman flees her abusive husband to attend the Burning Night festival in Alaska, she expects freedom. What she finds instead is something far more complicated: the sudden intrusion of a sordid past she thought she had left behind, the shadow of murder, and the unexpected arrival of a new love that forces her to confront who she truly is.

With Broadwell's signature blend of emotional depth, psychological tension, and vivid sense of place, Burning Night is a compelling exploration of what it means to break free from the past and open oneself to the possibility of transformation.

About the Author

Nikki Broadwell is a prolific and beloved author of 30 published novels, with two more titles slated for release later in 2026. She lives in the redwoods of Northern California with her husband of 45 years, a standard poodle, and a Maine Coon cat, a setting that lends its quiet magic to her imaginative, deeply human stories.

*When asked what inspired Burning Night, Broadwell reflects with characteristic openness: "I never know what inspires me... perhaps a thought that led to a character? Or maybe some of my own experiences from my early life? Stories appear through the ether, or should I say the muse?"*

Media Coverage & Promotional Activities

Nikki Broadwell has been featured in interviews with prominent media personalities Benji Cole and Kate Delaney. She has also been profiled in Reader's House, a respected British literary magazine, in an article exploring her imaginative worlds of fantasy and transformation.
