UK and Ghana-based music distribution company strengthens its support for independent artists and labels across Africa and beyond.

London, England Jun 9, 2026 (IssueWire.com) - iNMusic Distro Expands Global Reach with Free Music Distribution, Publishing Administration, and Artist Support iNMusic Distro, powered by iNMusic Digital Distribution Ltd, is making a strong impact across the global music industry with its transformative approach to digital music distribution, marketing, publishing administration, and royalty collection.

Headquartered in the United Kingdom and Ghana, with strategic operations across Africa, iNMusic Distro is rapidly becoming a trusted partner for independent artists, record labels, and music entrepreneurs seeking transparency, fast payouts, professional support, and global reach.

Founded on the principle of empowering creatives, iNMusic Distro provides 100% free music distribution to major digital service providers, including Spotify, Apple Music, Boomplay, Audiomack, YouTube Music, Beatport, WhatsApp, and more than 150 global platforms.

What sets iNMusic Distro apart is its commitment to fast royalty payments, comprehensive publishing administration, catalog monetization, video distribution, and a strong support system designed to help artists and labels understand the business side of music.

“We believe African talent deserves a global platform with global treatment,” said Fusani Acquah, CEO of iNMusic Digital Distribution Ltd. “Our mission is to make sure artists get paid fairly, get published properly, and go global from day one.”

As part of its continued expansion across Africa, iNMusic Distro recently appointed Lusimadio Soki Simao as Label Manager for South Africa. In this role, he will focus on onboarding and supporting artists, labels, and music entrepreneurs across Southern Africa. This strategic appointment is expected to strengthen iNMusic Distro’s presence in key African markets, including Nigeria, Ghana, South Africa, and Kenya.

With a user-friendly onboarding process, free artist and label account creation, and integrated royalty collection systems, iNMusic Distro is built for the modern digital music industry.

The company also provides stress-free publishing administration by helping artists and labels collect mechanical and performance royalties from global sources, including The MLC, SoundExchange, and worldwide performance rights organizations.

From managing a catalog of over 5,000 releases to representing artists such as Fimy Baby, Deon Boakye, Rap Fada, and Article Wan, as well as labels including Dark Music Distribution in Ghana and BeeyondTek Synergy Music in Nigeria, iNMusic Distro continues to position itself as a trusted leader in the independent music movement.
