

Lush Designs Mexico Launches Custom and Move-In Ready Furniture Packages for Homeowners and Renters Nationwide

End-to-end design and sourcing service gives international buyers direct access to vetted local suppliers and full project management

Bucerias, Nayarit Jun 10, 2026 (IssueWire.com) - Lush Designs Mexico has launched custom and move-in ready furniture packages for foreign homeowners, renters, and property investors across Mexico, bringing together interior design, supplier sourcing, and full project management into one service that has barely existed in this market until now.

Furnishing a home in Mexico as a foreigner is harder than it looks. There is no single online Puerto Vallarta furniture store to shop, no easy way to separate the reliable suppliers from the ones who overpromise, and no real system for keeping everything moving, particularly when you are coordinating from another country. Expats as well as foreign buyers along the Pacific Coast have felt this firsthand, whether they ended up in Puerto Vallarta, Bucerias, or Sayulita. The confusion is not just frustrating. It costs time. It strains budgets. And more often than not, it results in a home that looks nothing like what they had in mind when they started.

How The Process Works

Lush Designs steps into the process from the very beginning. With Lush Designs, clients connect directly with local suppliers at manufacturing prices, cutting out the markups and the middlemen entirely. The team handles everything in between, from the first supplier call to final delivery coordination.

Every project comes fully mapped out with a 2D floor plan, a 3D model of the finished space, a personalized color palette, plant styling with care tips, and a warranty on all custom indoor and outdoor furniture in Puerto Vallarta and beyond. A dedicated online portal keeps the whole project visible and current, with budget, purchases, and photo references in one place, accessible whether the client is local or managing things remotely.

Furnishing a coastal home also means thinking differently about materials. Salt air corrodes. Humidity warps. Sun fades. What works in a dry inland climate can deteriorate within a single season on the Pacific Coast if the wrong materials were chosen from the start. The suppliers Lush Designs works with already know this, and it is built into how they source and what they recommend.

"Most expats arrive in Mexico with a clear vision of how they want their home to look and very little understanding of how to get there through local suppliers," said Susan McGuire, Founder of Lush Designs Mexico. "We built these packages to remove that friction entirely, from the first design conversation through to a finished, furnished space."

What Their Package Includes

Lush Designs builds each package around what the client actually needs. Every project comes with:

- A custom furniture and modern mexican decor catalogue tailored to the space and style
- A curated supplier list with direct manufacturing prices
- 2D floor plan and 3D virtual model of the finished space
- Personalized color palette covering paint, decor, and detail matching
- Plant styling with care tips for indoors and patio spaces
- Warranty on all custom furniture
- A personal online portal to track purchases, photo references, and budget

Packages are available now. Homeowners, renters, and property investors can visit lushdesignsmexico.com to explore services, view the portfolio, and complete the getting started questionnaire.
