

Nelson E. Seabrook, MD, Recognized by America's Best in Medicine, Advances Patient-Centered Gastroenterology Care in West Columbia, South Carolina

Board-Certified Gastroenterologist at Consultants in Gastroenterology Focuses on Clinical Excellence, Prevention, and Compassionate Patient Care

West Columbia, South Carolina Jun 3, 2026 (Issuewire.com) - Nelson E. Seabrook, MD, is a board-certified gastroenterologist practicing in West Columbia, South Carolina, with Consultants in Gastroenterology. He has served on call at Lexington Medical Center for the last five years and also covers call at the Medical University of South Carolina in Northeast Columbia, where he provides expert care for patients with a wide range of gastrointestinal conditions. Since joining the practice in 2021, Dr. Seabrook has been committed to delivering patient-centered care that prioritizes clinical excellence, individualized attention, and clear patient education.

Dr. Seabrook's clinical expertise spans the diagnosis and management of reflux disease, liver conditions, colorectal cancer prevention, and general gastroenterology. He is widely recognized for his thoughtful, thorough approach to care and his commitment to ensuring patients feel heard, informed, and actively involved in their treatment plans. His practice philosophy blends strong clinical expertise with an entrepreneurial mindset focused on delivering high-quality, efficient, and compassionate care.

At the heart of Dr. Seabrook's approach is a simple personal mantra: "Whether as a father, friend, or physician—show up fully, or don't show up at all." This philosophy reflects his commitment to being fully present in every role he takes on and to bringing the same level of dedication, compassion, and accountability to his relationships with patients, colleagues, family, and community. For Dr. Seabrook, providing exceptional medical care means more than applying clinical knowledge; it means listening closely, being present, and giving patients his full attention when they need it most.

"What I enjoy most about practicing medicine is the opportunity to help people and serve my community," said Dr. Seabrook. "I love gastroenterology for its diversity—caring for patients with acute issues, managing chronic conditions like Crohn's disease and ulcerative colitis, and providing preventive care such as colon cancer screening. Being able to guide patients through treatment, improve their quality of life, and make a tangible difference in their health is incredibly rewarding."

Dr. Seabrook earned his Medical Degree from the Medical University of South Carolina in 2014. He completed his residency in Internal Medicine at the University of Louisville, where he also served as Chief Resident, demonstrating early leadership in clinical training and hospital operations. He then completed his fellowship in Gastroenterology at the Medical University of South Carolina from 2018 to 2021, where he refined his expertise in advanced diagnostic and therapeutic procedures.

His procedural skill set includes colonoscopy, upper gastrointestinal endoscopy, and the management of complex digestive disorders. Through this training, Dr. Seabrook has developed a strong foundation in both preventive and interventional gastroenterology, allowing him to address a broad spectrum of patient needs with precision and care.

In addition to his clinical responsibilities, Dr. Seabrook is actively involved in the medical community. He is a member of the South Carolina Medical Association, the South Carolina Gastroenterology Association, and the American College of Gastroenterology. He previously participated in the American Medical Association and maintains medical licensure in both South Carolina and Kentucky. He is board-certified by the American Board of Internal Medicine in both Internal Medicine and Gastroenterology.

Through his commitment to clinical excellence, prevention, and compassionate care, Dr. Nelson E. Seabrook continues to enhance patient outcomes and contribute meaningfully to the advancement of gastroenterology in his community and beyond.
