

Nexdigm and IntelloSync Partner to Deliver Technology-Enabled Contract Lifecycle Management Solutions

Mumbai, Maharashtra Jun 3, 2026 (Issuewire.com) - Nexdigm has entered into a strategic partnership with IntelloSync to support organizations in transforming contract management through a combination of domain expertise, operational excellence, and AI-enabled technology capabilities.

This collaboration brings together Nexdigm's experience in managing end-to-end contract lifecycle processes with IntelloSync's capabilities in workflow automation, data-driven intelligence, system integrations, and AI-led process enablement. Together, the two companies aim to help businesses improve the way contracts are created, managed, tracked, and governed across the lifecycle & beyond.

"At Nexdigm, we are committed to reimagining how contract management delivers value in a rapidly evolving business landscape. Our partnership with IntelloSync reflects this vision—bringing together deep domain expertise and AI-driven innovation to create a smarter, more connected contracting ecosystem. By combining a technology-first approach with human insight, we are enabling our clients to scale with confidence, balance agility with risk management, and unlock greater strategic value from their contracts," said Nimish Shah, Co-CEO, Nexdigm.

"This collaboration strengthens our ability to support clients across both pre-signature and post-signature contracting processes by integrating technology-led solutions with our already existing delivery and advisory expertise. Our focus remains on helping organizations build more efficient, data-driven, and well-governed contract management ecosystems," said Alpana Shirgaonkar, Senior Executive Director – Business Process Services, Nexdigm.

"We are committed to helping organizations modernize contract operations using AI-led automation and intelligent workflow solutions. Through our partnership with Nexdigm, we look forward to supporting enterprises in managing high-volume and complex contracting processes with greater agility and operational efficiency," said Aakash Chaudhary, Founder, IntelloSync Technologies.

Through this partnership, Nexdigm and IntelloSync will support organizations across:

- Contract management strategy and advisory
- Technology enablement + implementation and workflow integration
- Contract digitization and metadata management
- AI-enabled workflow automation and technology-powered operational support
- Post-signature contract tracking and analytics
- Governance, compliance and obligation management

Organizations can expect benefits including:

- Reduced dependency on fragmented systems and manual contracting processes
- Stronger operational governance, aided by better lifecycle control across contract creation, execution and post-signature management
- Improved contracting efficiency through workflow standardization and AI-enabled process support
- Greater visibility and accessibility across contract portfolios through digitization, metadata abstraction, and centralized repositories
- Stronger compliance and governance supported by advanced obligation & milestone tracking, deviation analysis, and audit-ready documentation
- Scalable support for high-volume and high-complexity contracting environments.

About Nexdigm

Nexdigm is a privately held global organization providing business and professional services across India, the UAE, the USA, and Poland, with dedicated desks in Canada and Japan. With over six decades of experience, Nexdigm supports organizations in managing complex contract environments through its Contract Management Services, offering end-to-end lifecycle support. This is enabled by a team of over 100 experienced legal professionals and a robust onshore/offshore/nearshore delivery model, designed to deliver structured, scalable and tech-enabled outcomes.

About IntelloSync

IntelloSync is a technology-focused provider of contract management solutions, offering AI-enabled platforms, workflow automation, and IT support capabilities. The organization works with businesses to enhance contract visibility, streamline contracting processes, and integrate contract management within broader enterprise ecosystems.

Media Contact

Nexdigm

@nexdigm.com

+912267309000

Mumbai

<http://www.nexdigm.com>

Source : Nexdigm

See on IssueWire