Tomah, Wisconsin Jun 3, 2026 (IssueWire.com) - After nearly two decades of painstaking research and textual analysis, author Peter Boaz Jones presents a monumental work of biblical scholarship: a complete and chronologically ordered conflation of all four Gospels into a single, unified narrative explicated with the author's own insightful commentary.

About the Book

The Gospel of the Four is a unique and groundbreaking work that weaves the four Gospel texts Matthew, Mark, Luke, and John into one seamless, chronological narrative. Unlike traditional approaches that treat each Gospel in isolation, Jones reveals how these four distinct accounts complement and illuminate one another when read as a whole.

Readers who have long encountered apparent contradictions or discrepancies in the Gospel accounts will discover, through Jones's meticulous analysis, that these texts form a harmonious and coherent record of events unfolding in their precise geographical areas and historical timeframe. The author's original commentary guides the reader through the narrative, providing essential context for Jesus' sayings, parables, and actions.

This work is an essential resource for serious biblical scholars, theological students, and laypeople who wish to deepen their understanding of the Gospels beyond what any single text can offer. At a time of widespread extremism and doctrinal confusion, The Gospel of the Four offers a grounded, faithful, and authoritative reading of scripture that can serve as a foundation for sound theological understanding.

"My main focus and agenda were to make the world a sounder place through the proper understanding of these Scriptural texts, in an age of extremism and false teachings."

About the Author

Peter Boaz Jones was born in Germany in 1944 and has lived in the West Midlands, England since 1948. A self-directed scholar of biblical exegesis from his teenage years, Jones pursued his passion for scripture throughout his working life, attending extensive lectures at the Centre for the Study of Judaism and Jewish-Christian Relations at Selly Oak Colleges, Birmingham, under the distinguished Professor Norman Solomon.

Jones began the research for this book in 1982, driven by a desire to address widespread claims of contradiction and discrepancy within the Gospel texts. Working methodically through the original Greek sources alongside the English texts and balancing this undertaking with the demands of professional life, he completed the work in 2000. The result is an achievement of remarkable intellectual rigour and devotional depth.
