

PX Supply Broadens Tactical First Aid Kit and Military Gear Supply Offerings for 2026

Expanded product line reflects growing demand from professionals in the field as PX Supply strengthens its commitment to reliable equipment sourcing.

Granger, Indiana Jun 3, 2026 (IssueWire.com) - PX Supply, a trusted name in professional-grade equipment, is announcing an expansion of its product portfolio this year. The company continues to strengthen its reputation as a reliable source for professionals who demand quality gear in demanding environments.

More Tactical First Aid Kit Options Now Stocked

Field medics, range officers, and backcountry operators have been asking for better-stocked options, and PX Supply listened. The company has pulled in additional tactical first-aid kit configurations built around actual trauma-response needs rather than generic shelf appeal.

The Rothco Tactical First Aid Kit is one of the standouts in this expansion. It's got the contents you'd expect for handling bleeding, burns, and shock in the field. No filler, no gimmicks. Full breakdown of what's inside is posted at the PX Supply's Rothco Tactical First Aid Kit.

The kit comes stocked with over 40 pieces: hydrogen peroxide for wound cleaning, a non-adherent pad, instant cold pack, sterile gauze pads, elastic bandage rolls, medical tape, tweezers, triple antibiotic ointment packets, alcohol prep pads, antiseptic towelettes, burn cream packets, assorted adhesive bandages, and a fresh-scent wipe. It also includes a pair of scissors and disposable gloves. Everything packs into a compact, organized case that runs $21.99.

Military Gear Supply Line Gets a Refresh

On the hardware side, PX Supply has reworked its military gear supply selection to cover more operational profiles. New arrivals include load-bearing rigs, outerwear tested in wet and cold conditions, and accessories that don't fall apart after a few hard days.

The buying team vets everything before it hits the site. If a supplier can't back up their claims with consistent quality, PX Supply cuts them loose. That policy has cost some vendor relationships, but it's kept their return rates low and their repeat customer numbers climbing.

What This Means for Buyers

PX Supply isn't trying to be the biggest name in tactical retail. They're aiming to be the one that operators come back to when a piece of gear failed somewhere else, and they need something that won't.
