Quantum Agentic HEALTHCARE

Menlo Park, California Jun 17, 2026 (IssueWire.com) - Quantum Agentic Health, Inc. also operating as Quantum Agentic Healthcare, today announced the launch of its groundbreaking patient-representing operating system — a comprehensive infrastructure designed to return agency to every American in the healthcare ecosystem. By bridging the gap between clinical data, insurance complexity, and personal wellness, Quantum is transforming healthcare from a fragmented, confusing legacy system into a streamlined, human-centered experience.

American healthcare is currently defined by silos, administrative burden, and rising costs. Quantum Agentic Healthcare changes this by providing an active, patient-representing operating system that coordinates clinical care, manages insurance benefits, and relentlessly pursues cost savings on behalf of every member.

"American healthcare is fragmented, expensive, and confusing," said Bo Gregorix ("Greg"), Co-Founder of Quantum Agentic Health. "We believe patients and their families should never have to navigate that complexity alone. Quantum Agentic Healthcare is the backbone our system has been missing — an operating system that remembers who you are, fights for what you need, and eliminates surprise bills."

A Patient-Representing Backbone for American Healthcare

Quantum is not just another health app; it is the foundational infrastructure for modern healthcare. Unlike traditional tools that act as passive portals, the platform integrates data, intelligence, and workflow automation into a single architecture that serves individuals, employers, providers, and government agencies. Key features of the ecosystem include:

- Flagship AI Advocate (the Quantum Advocate): A trusted digital companion that coordinates care, navigates benefits, and relentlessly secures cost savings on behalf of the member.

- Comprehensive Personal Health Records: A unified, longitudinal health record that gives members true ownership of their lifelong health history.
- Predictive Health Twins: Dynamic models that simulate future health trajectories, identifying emerging risks and enabling proactive rather than reactive care.
- Agent-to-Agent Coordination: A revolutionary layer where patient-representing agents communicate directly with providers, payors, pharmacies, and government systems to achieve a level of coordination the industry has never seen.
- Privacy-Preserving Intelligence: Security that goes beyond HIPAA — ensuring members keep total control of their data while enabling de-identified insights that improve outcomes for entire populations.

The "Quantum" Edge: Privacy as a Moat

At the heart of the Quantum ecosystem is a commitment to "Privacy Beyond HIPAA." Engineered with Quantum Data Vault technology, the platform leverages on-device and "local-only" AI so that, where required by sensitivity, patient data remains under member control with local fallback resilience. This "privacy-first" moat ensures that the most sensitive operations — such as oncology care coordination or behavioral health — can be handled with the highest degree of security, satisfying the most stringent regulatory requirements.

Quantum is also at the forefront of the shift toward the "Agent Web," moving healthcare beyond human-readable portals to machine-usable, agent-actionable capabilities — setting a new standard for how care is coordinated.

Meet the Super Agentic Team

Quantum's ecosystem is powered by a roster of specialized agents, each purpose-built for a role in the patient care journey and acting on the member's behalf 24/7:

- Tam (AI Care Nurse): Provides triage, medication instructions, and aftercare guidance.
- Carl (AI Physician Assistant): Preps visit summaries and tracks care plans.
- Leona (AI Operations Coordinator): Handles the paperwork, prior authorizations, and benefits navigation that patients dread.
- Bria (AI Primary Care Doctor) & Bo (AI Specialist Physician): Offer evidence-based guidance and complex case synthesis.
- Halo (AI Behavioral Health) & Luna (AI Therapist): Provide judgment-free support and continuous mental-wellbeing continuity.
- Sage (AI Wellness Coach) & Remy (AI Pharmacist): Ensure every day is personalized and every medication is safe.

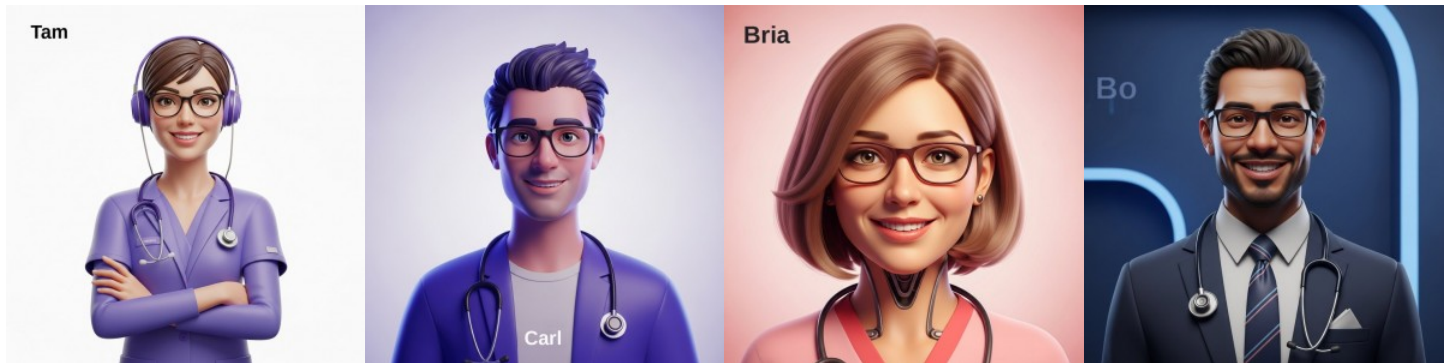

A Commitment to Radical Transparency

Quantum Agentic Healthcare is guided by four core principles: People First, Privacy by Design, Radical Transparency, and Outcomes That Matter. The company measures success by healthier people, lower burden, and faster access — not clicks or engagement. As it expands nationwide, Quantum continues to partner with employers, health systems, and federal programs to build a system that works for every American.
