

RX Pros Launches “Access First” Pledge to Improve Healthcare Awareness

RX Pros, based in Clearwater, Florida, introduces a personal pledge focused on improving access, speed, and understanding in modern healthcare.

Sheridan, Wyoming Jun 11, 2026 (IssueWire.com) - RX Pros has announced the launch of its new “Access First” Pledge, a personal initiative designed to raise awareness around one of the most urgent challenges in healthcare today: access. The pledge is rooted in the company’s ongoing work in telehealth and reflects a broader call for individuals to take a more active role in how they approach care.

“People were waiting weeks just to get basic treatment,” RX Pros shared. “That delay made no sense anymore.”

Recent data highlights the scale of the issue. According to the Kaiser Family Foundation, nearly 1 in 4 adults in the U.S. have delayed or skipped care due to cost or access barriers. Telehealth usage has grown more than 30 times since 2020, yet many patients still struggle with navigating their options. In addition, over 30% of patients report difficulty scheduling timely appointments, and rural areas continue to face provider shortages.

“We’re not the doctor and we’re not the pharmacy,” RX Pros explained. “We connect the two.”

“We asked one question early on: where does the process slow down?”

“Healthcare should not feel complicated.”

“Everything we do comes back to convenience, speed, affordability, and accessibility.”

These insights led to the creation of a structured, personal commitment framework.

The “Access First” Pledge: 7 Personal Commitments

RX Pros is encouraging individuals to adopt the following behaviors:

- Act early – Do not delay seeking care when something feels off.
- Understand your options—Research available care paths before making decisions.
- Ask direct questions – Clarify timelines, costs, and processes upfront.
- Use digital tools when appropriate – Explore online consultations where suitable.
- Track your health consistently – Keep simple records of symptoms and progress.
- Reduce friction where possible—Choose care paths that save time and effort.
- Share knowledge with others – Help friends and family understand their options.

“Access starts with taking the first step,” RX Pros noted. “People have more control than they think.”

Why This Matters Now

The pledge comes at a time when healthcare expectations are shifting. Patients increasingly expect faster, simpler access to care.

- Over 25% of adults delay care due to cost or scheduling barriers
- Telehealth adoption has increased more than 30x since 2020

- More than 1 in 8 U.S. adults have explored GLP-1 treatments
- Rural provider shortages affect millions of Americans

“Technology is changing the system,” RX Pros said. “But awareness still lags behind.”

Do It Yourself Toolkit: 10 Simple Actions

RX Pros is also releasing a free toolkit to help individuals take action:

- Write down your current health concerns
- List all available care options (in-person and online)
- Compare wait times before booking
- Prepare 3 key questions before any consultation
- Keep a basic health journal
- Use free online resources to understand conditions
- Set reminders for follow-ups
- Avoid postponing minor issues
- Talk openly with trusted people about care options
- Review your care experience and adjust next steps

“These steps don’t require money,” RX Pros explained. “They require awareness and action.”

30-Day Progress Tracker

Week 1: Identify and document health needs

Week 2: Research and explore available options

Week 3: Take action (consultation or next step)

Week 4: Review outcomes and adjust approach

Goal: Build a habit of proactive, informed decision-making.

Call to Action

RX Pros is inviting individuals to take the “Access First” Pledge and share the toolkit with others.

“Start small,” they said. “One step can change how you experience care.”

Participants are encouraged to commit to the seven behaviors and track their progress over 30 days.
