

SpeedCalcs Adds Specialty Tools for Makers, Hobbyists, and Niche Communities

Kingston, Jamaica Jun 5, 2026 (Issuewire.com) - SpeedCalcs, the free online calculator platform available at speedcalcs.com is expanding its specialty calculator library to serve underserved niche communities including martial artists, cosplay makers, home gardeners, resin crafters and small scale food producers. The platform which requires no account or subscription to use, now offers purpose built calculation tools that go far beyond standard math or finance, giving hobbyists and makers the precise numbers they need for their specific crafts.

While most calculator websites focus on generic financial or scientific tools, SpeedCalcs has taken a different direction by building calculators around the real world questions that hobbyists and niche community members actually ask. SpeedCalcs tools currently cover categories including crafts and fabric, food and cooking, wellness and fitness, gardening, automotive and personal finance all housed under one free platform.

Visitors to speedcalcs.com can for example, find a BJJ gi shrinkage calculator that helps martial artists determine how much a gi will shrink after washing, a fursuit fur yardage estimator for cosplay and costume makers and a resin 3D printing exposure calculator for makers working with MSLA printers. Gardeners can use SpeedCalcs tools to estimate greenhouse heating requirements, while home candle makers can calculate wax, fragrance and wick quantities for any batch size.

"Most calculator platforms are built for accountants and students," said Alberto, founder of SpeedCalcs. "SpeedCalcs was built for the person trying to figure out how much foam they need to build a costume or how many candles they can make from a pound of wax. We fill that gap and we do it for free."

SpeedCalcs currently hosts over 300 calculators and adds new tools on a near-daily basis, with community requested topics regularly being added to the development pipeline. The platform is entirely free, with no login wall, no paywall, and no required subscription a deliberate decision by the SpeedCalcs team to keep practical tools accessible to everyone.

The SpeedCalcs library is organized into clear topic categories, making it easy for users to browse by interest area. Each SpeedCalcs calculator is paired with plain-language explanations so users understand not just the result, but the reasoning behind it.
