Dallas, Texas Jun 10, 2026 (IssueWire.com) - Breaking Barriers TV, the premier media platform dedicated to amplifying the untold stories of minority trailblazers, is proud to announce “The Authority Takeover.” Hosted by renowned Media Architect Racquel Maye-David, this virtual movement and workshop, scheduled for June 24, 2026, is designed to bridge the “Legacy Gap” and empower entrepreneurs to reclaim their narrative sovereignty.

In an era where entrepreneurs often build their brands on the “rented land” of social media, Breaking Barriers is offering a radical alternative: Content Ownership. By leveraging strategic partnerships with networks like Zondra TV, Breaking Barriers provides Black and Brown creators with access to over 800 million households worldwide, moving them from local heroes to global icons.

“For too long, our stories have been edited, filtered, and gate-kept by traditional media,” says Racquel Maye-David, Founder of Breaking Barriers. “We aren’t just looking for influencers; we are building Media Moguls. Narrative Sovereignty is about owning your story from inception to broadcast. It’s about being undeniable on a global stage.”

The June 24th workshop, "The Visible Authority Workshop," serves as the gateway for entrepreneurs to move beyond the cycle of "likes" and "follows" into the realm of true authority. Participants will learn:

- The Media Architect Framework: How to design a brand that commands attention off social media.
- Narrative Sovereignty: The strategies required to own your content and your legacy.
- The Broadcast Pivot: Transforming your business into a media asset that reaches millions.

Following the workshop, select participants will be invited to apply for the Breaking Barriers Media Lab, an intensive coaching and broadcast experience that puts them directly on the global stage.

“This isn’t just a workshop; it’s a takeover,” Maye-David adds. “We are building a new media ecosystem where Black and Brown voices aren’t just invited to the table—they own the room.”

About Breaking Barriers:

Breaking Barriers is a unique media platform and consultancy dedicated to showcasing Black and Brown trailblazers, entrepreneurs, and creators. Through TV appearances, press releases, and media coaching, Breaking Barriers ensures that minority voices are heard, respected, and owned on a global stage.
