

250 Years of Innovation: Dex System Traces American Ingenuity from Founding to Frontier AI

This release highlights titles exploring memory, identity, and technological reinvention

Los Angeles, California Jul 1, 2026 (IssueWire.com) - American ingenuity built the nation's first 250 years — and Dex System argues it will define the next 250, too. This sixth release in the Semiquincentennial series highlights titles exploring how memory, identity, and human potential evolve alongside technology.

Morgan Burns' I'm You and I(You!) probe questions of identity that echo the AI moment we're living through, while Yug Gohan's Memory Days and Marvin Hamner's Neon Sanctuary imagine futures built on the same restless innovation that has always driven the American story.
