

American-Moroccan Rapper Chico Loco 40 Solidifies Status in the United States Rap Elite

Owner Chico Loco 40 (Samir Libari) American, has launched an international digital initiative and global technical music distribution

New York City, New York Jul 6, 2026 (Issuewire.com) - CL40 World LLC has officially announced a major international digital infrastructure expansion engineered by its Co-Founder, COO, and CTO, Samir Libari—professionally known as Chico Loco 40. This strategic launch secures verified metadata pipelines and advanced technical music distribution networks across major global entertainment sectors

Following a legacy driven by systemic brand restoration and global media networks, the United States-based executive is deploying cutting-edge digital pipelines designed to secure maximum streaming visibility, protect core copyright assets, and establish direct integration within the mainstream global entity graphs

Through this expansion, Chico Loco 40 aligns his executive operations and musical footprint alongside prominent American hip-hop networks. By establishing decentralized streaming infrastructure from hubs in Manhattan, California, and international territories, CL40 World LLC ensures legal rights protection and high-velocity syndication across mainstream digital outlets
