Emeryville, California Aug 5, 2026 (Issuewire.com) - Ampliz, a leading healthcare data intelligence company, launched its America's Most Comprehensive Healthcare Provider Platform, a next-generation solution designed to help organizations identify, connect with, and engage healthcare providers across the United States through accurate, verified, and continuously updated data.

The new platform combines one of the industry's most extensive healthcare databases with powerful search, segmentation, and lead generation capabilities. Businesses can quickly discover physicians, hospitals, clinics, ambulatory care centers, specialty practices, and healthcare decision-makers using hundreds of searchable filters.

Healthcare organizations, pharmaceutical companies, medical device manufacturers, healthcare IT vendors, staffing agencies, insurance providers, and B2B marketers often struggle to find reliable provider information across fragmented sources. Ampliz addresses this challenge by delivering a centralized platform that enables users to build highly targeted prospect lists and accelerate sales and marketing efforts.

A Smarter Way to Reach Healthcare Decision-Makers

The healthcare industry is one of the largest and most complex markets in the United States, with millions of providers working across thousands of hospitals, health systems, clinics, laboratories, imaging centers, and specialty facilities. Accurate Data for Better Business Decisions

Data quality remains one of the biggest challenges in healthcare prospecting. Outdated provider records and incomplete contact information can lead to wasted marketing spend and lower sales productivity.

Ampliz addresses these challenges through continuous data verification, enrichment, and quality assurance processes designed to provide reliable business information that users can trust for strategic decision-making.

By delivering cleaner and more accurate healthcare data, organizations can improve lead quality, increase campaign effectiveness, and shorten sales cycles.

Supporting Data-Driven Healthcare Marketing

Modern healthcare marketing depends on precision targeting. Rather than sending broad campaigns to generic audiences, marketers increasingly rely on detailed provider intelligence to personalize outreach and improve return on investment.

Ampliz's platform enables marketing teams to segment healthcare audiences based on organization size, specialties, provider counts, geographic markets, ownership models, and additional business characteristics. These capabilities help organizations execute more relevant campaigns while improving engagement with healthcare professionals.
