New York City, New York Jul 14, 2026 (IssueWire.com) - Axis Web Art, a New York-based Shopify development agency, has recently achieved certification from Shopify as a Select Partner. Select Partnerships with Shopify are awarded to agencies that meet certain thresholds related to merchant satisfaction, delivery and platform know-how.

As a consideration for merchants trying to choose the right Shopify development agency, Select Partnership is an additional benchmark for those looking to hire a Shopify agency that will help them develop complex and custom-built storefronts or implement Shopify Plus.

"Being awarded the Select Partner status is testament to all our past experience and projects with our clients — helping merchants not only launch a store but solve business problems on Shopify," noted a spokesperson from Axis Web Art. "These days, merchants look for partners who understand their business and help them grow."

The company said it plans to continue expanding its Shopify services for merchants across America and internationally.
