Sappington, Missouri Jul 13, 2026 (Issuewire.com) - Dr. Bonnie M. Savage, Ph.D., PMP, is inviting readers across the United States to discover a warm and meaningful collection of books created for horse lovers, nature lovers, families, children, creative adults, and anyone who enjoys a quiet moment of reflection.

Her Amazon collection includes Of Wings 'N Things: Adult Coloring Book, The Horse Lovers Adult Coloring Book, The Horse Lovers Doodling Pages & Adult Coloring Book, Horse Humor: Wit and Wisdom for the Mind, Body and Spirit, Little Cute Pony Coloring Book, and Little Cute Pony Activity Book: Coloring, Drawing and Children's Games. Together, these books bring coloring, doodling, horse humor, pony fun, and nature-inspired art into homes, classrooms, barns, and gift baskets.

Dr. Savage's books are not ordinary activity books. They come from a life shaped by science, creativity, leadership, horses, teaching, mentoring, and a deep belief in the goodness of people. A New England native now based in Stanberry, Missouri, Dr. Savage has lived many roles, including teacher, mentor, life coach, research professor, horse rancher, businesswoman, author, and executive advisor. Her books reflect that full and varied life. They are gentle, thoughtful, accessible, and rooted in her love for the natural world.

"I have always believed that creativity gives people a place to breathe," said Dr. Savage. "A coloring page, a horse image, a playful pony activity, or a simple moment of humor can help someone return to joy, peace, and imagination."

That belief is visible throughout her horse-themed books. The Horse Lovers Adult Coloring Book and The Horse Lovers Doodling Pages & Adult Coloring Book give teens and adults a relaxing way to enjoy equine art. They are ideal for riders, trainers, horse families, barn owners, 4-H members, equestrian students, and anyone who feels most at home around horses. The books offer a screen-free creative outlet that feels personal, calming, and connected to the spirit of the horse world.

Her equestrian perspective is grounded in real experience. Through StarFire Ranch Vermont, Dr. Savage built and ran a horse business known for high-performance equine athletes. More importantly, she created a one-of-a-kind gentleness training program that helped elite horses remain calm, manageable, and safe enough to be around children. In a world where many top equine athletes are known for being highly sensitive, wired, or difficult to handle, her horses became known for their exceptional level-headedness, family-friendly nature, and gentle temperaments. That rare mix of excellence and calm gives her horse books a sense of authenticity that horse lovers can recognize.

For readers who love both horses and laughter, Horse Humor: Wit and Wisdom for the Mind, Body and Spirit offers a blend of equestrian wit, reflection, and heart. It is a natural fit for coffee tables, tack rooms, barn lounges, horse-loving households, and thoughtful gifts. The book speaks to people who understand that horses can humble a person, teach patience, inspire courage, and bring healing in ways few things can.

Dr. Savage also brings her love of ponies and creativity to younger readers through two separate children's titles: Little Cute Pony Coloring Book and Little Cute Pony Activity Book: Coloring, Drawing and Children's Games. The coloring book gives children a sweet, pony-filled space for imagination and artistic play, while the activity book adds drawing and children's games for extra engagement. Both are well suited for parents, grandparents, teachers, caregivers, and families looking for wholesome, screen-free fun. They make thoughtful gifts for birthdays, holidays, rainy days, road trips, classroom activities, and quiet afternoons at home.

Her nature-inspired title, Of Wings 'N Things: Adult Coloring Book, expands the collection beyond horses and ponies into the beauty of birds, butterflies, dragonflies, flowers, and delicate natural forms.

For adults who use coloring as a way to relax, reset, or clear the mind, the book offers a peaceful escape into the outdoor world. Each page gives readers a chance to slow down and enjoy the simple satisfaction of making something beautiful by hand.

Dr. Savage's professional background adds rare depth to her creative work. She holds a Ph.D. in Civil Engineering from Purdue University, along with two master's degrees in Civil Engineering and a bachelor's degree in Human and Natural Resources Management. Her research earned national attention, including work reviewed by the President of the United States and positioned for nationwide use. Upon presentation, her work also received a standing ovation from the United States Congress.

In addition to her academic and research accomplishments, Dr. Savage has built a respected career in business and technology transformations. Her leadership experience includes work within a Fortune 500 company focused on Business and Technology Transformations, where she helped lead strategic partnerships, business development, and complex transformation efforts across federal agencies and organizations.

Today, Dr. Savage serves within an elite Data Operations group supporting a branch of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. In that role, she advises executive leadership on business architecture, operations, and strategies for national emergency scale-up responses tied to health security data operations. Her work gives her a strong understanding of how data, leadership, operations, and technology must come together for successful transformation. She has also received Project Management Institute training focused on the management of AI projects, a valuable foundation for her upcoming work in artificial intelligence, business transformation, and learning guides.

That wide professional range makes her creative books even more meaningful. Dr. Savage understands pressure, change, innovation, responsibility, and the human need for restoration. Her coloring books, pony books, and horse humor titles offer readers something simple but needed: a moment of quiet, connection, and joy.

"These books are for the horse lover who needs to unwind, the adult who misses creative play, the child who lights up at the sight of a pony, and the family looking for something sweet to share," said Dr. Savage. "My hope is that each book brings a little more calm, laughter, and beauty into someone's day."
