

Last Call for Summer: Dex System Publishing's Final August Reading Picks

A closing feature on the remaining catalog standouts before the season ends.

New York City, New York Jul 30, 2026 (IssueWire.com) - Dex System Publishing closes out its August campaign with a last-call feature — a final chance to catch up on catalog standouts before fall reading season takes over, capping a summer of coverage that began around the Fourth of July.

The Zeus Mandate by Russell Lavine and Whispers of the Old World by Steven Jacobs lead the list, joined by Ocean Moon by Rane Corvus, revisited here as a bookend to the campaign's second feature, and E+Drive: The Good Ghost (A Tale of Choice) by Ronald Bartholomew.

"It felt right to end where we started, with Ocean Moon," a Dex System spokesperson said. "The whole campaign has been about giving readers something for every mood this summer, from the Fourth of July on."

Dex System Publishing thanks the outlets and readers who followed along this August and will preview its September slate in the weeks ahead. Outlets interested in early access to that coverage are encouraged to reach out through the media contact below.

This closing feature ties back to nearly every thread run throughout the month — ocean imagery, geopolitical fiction, and the recurring E+Drive title — giving outlets a natural summary point for a full recap of the August campaign.
