My father knew that if I became a medical doctor, I would never leave the hospital because of my strong desire to help others. He advised me to choose dentistry. I could still be a healer and help my patients get out of pain. The choice has been an excellent one.”

Dr. Grand credits her dedicated team for helping create a welcoming environment where patients feel comfortable and cared for throughout their dental journey. Together, they remain focused on providing exceptional service, building trust, and helping every patient maintain a lifetime of optimal oral health.
