

Bald and Bonkers Network Announces Expansion, Paranormal Technology Initiatives, Podcast Season 2, and New Music Release

From motivational podcasts, to specialized tech, and new music featuring Hip Hop legends; CEO Frandsen promises a total game change of the media landscape.

BALD AND BONKERS NETWORK LLC

Twin Falls, Idaho Aug 16, 2026 (Issuewire.com) - Bald and Bonkers Network LLC, a multimedia production company dedicated to giving a voice to the weird, dark, and unconventional, today announced a broad expansion across independent media, paranormal research, creator advocacy, consumer products, and music.

Built around the belief that independent creators should have the tools to tell meaningful stories and build sustainable careers, Bald and Bonkers is developing a growing ecosystem designed to support creators without compromising their mental health, humanity, or creative independence.

The company's latest expansion combines paranormal media, ethical technology, mental-health advocacy, entertainment, and music. The network has now grown to eight dedicated team members and is advancing several major initiatives.

Season 2 of Are We Truly Unknown?

The motivational paranormal podcast Are We Truly Unknown? is officially moving into its second season. The show explores the unexplained through conversations about mystery, personal experience, resilience, and the human search for meaning; all while airing across 21 platforms and growing!

The production team is currently seeking special guests for upcoming prerecorded interviews spanning paranormal investigation, mental health, filmmaking, music, research, and other unconventional fields.

New Music Release: TEMPR/TEMPTATION

On August 28, 2026, Bald and Bonkers Network LLC is scheduled to release “TEMPR/TEMPTATION,” a Dakota Frandsen recording credited as featuring Eminem and 50 Cent.

The recording incorporates licensed vocal performances used under a non-exclusive license from That’s Hip Hop LLC. Eminem and 50 Cent are credited as featured artists only and are not represented as endorsing, sponsoring, or participating in Bald and Bonkers Network LLC, Are We Truly Unknown?, or the company’s marketing activities.

The track presents a forceful artistic response to fraud, exploitative behavior, predatory systems, and the pressure to perform for social-media attention. It is part of a broader multimedia project exploring the tension between discipline and desire, personal integrity and temptation, and the human cost of chasing recognition.

The official music video will premiere here on the company's official YouTube channel:

The recording is offered through permitted digital-download and physical-release channels and is not presented as an official Eminem or 50 Cent video or endorsement by either featured artist.

Emerging Technology and Lifestyle Products

Bald and Bonkers is developing concept-stage products that include energy beverages, AI-assisted creative and journaling applications, scent-free personal-care products, and experimental tools for paranormal investigators and independent creators. Each of these motions, and more behind the scenes, are designed to solve multiple issues across the various fields the company explores; aiming to better the landscape for all. Combined with an online certification academy, an upcoming video game release, and potential partnerships within scientific authority channels they are paving the way to completely rewrite multiple industries with their recognized style of hard hitting truth, creative innovation, and willingness to explore where most are too afraid to venture.

These concepts are intended for entertainment, creative exploration, and experimental research. They are not represented as medical, therapeutic, diagnostic, safety, security, or scientifically validated products. No product is currently being offered for reliance in emergency, medical, or professional decision-making.

Bald and Bonkers is exploring potential collaborations with qualified manufacturing, design, and technology partners. Any future products/discoveries will be subject to appropriate testing, labeling, regulatory review, and clearly defined use limitations before commercial release.

“For more than 16 years, I’ve been involved in these circles. I’ve met truly incredible people, but I’ve also personally encountered situations involving misconduct, exploitation, and systems that failed to protect people from being used or mistreated,” said Dakota Frandsen, CEO of Bald and Bonkers Network LLC. “Those experiences reinforced my belief that independent creators deserve healthier,

“Through creative arts, professional relationships, research, advocacy, and better tools, Bald and Bonkers is here to help create a healthier model. We’re gathering resources to help people tell the stories they’re afraid to tell, protect their mental health, and build something sustainable without becoming heartless in the process.

“They say AI is heartless? Well... AI had to learn it from somewhere. Instead of waiting for UFOs to descend from the sky and make the world better, maybe it’s time for all of us to be just a little Bonkers enough to make a positive change ourselves. Frankly, not all of us can pull off the bald look.”
