

International Dancing Machines Celebrates Five Years of Pan-Genre Cat Music

Newest multimedia project – “Shake Yass and Pay Cats” – released today

Boston, Massachusetts Aug 16, 2026 (Issuewire.com) - International Dancing Machines today announced the fifth entry in its cat-themed music sequence spanning genres including pop, drum and bass, techno and something resembling jazz. The newest project in the series - Shake Yass and Pay Cats - combines breakbeat and house music.

Colin Boroski, series creator and Director of Funk at International Dancing Machines, provided comment: “The world doesn’t need my music in it, but I love music too much to stop making it. International Dancing Machines gives me the outlet to put my music to work raising funds and awareness for a cat shelter that’s making an important difference in its community.”

All five entries in the music series feature cat-themed lyrics, samples and videos. They didn’t have to. Boring, non-cat-themed music would have sufficed and surely skewed closer to audience tastes. Conventional music industry wisdom likewise favors stylistic continuity between projects and frowns upon madcap cross-genre freewheeling.

International Dancing Machines chose a different path – the most absurd path possible, per its ethos. Five years, five projects and five-ish genres later, the results speak for themselves.

Special thanks to Cybersound and Q Division recording studios for their expertise and participation in this series. Warm thanks also to MC Reverend Gato for contributing excerpts from his sermon delivered Spring 2025 at a New England correctional facility (“Gato Galactico”). International Dancing Machines invites musicians and artists to inquire about collaborations. Project proposals do not have to be cat-oriented.

About International Dancing Machines

International Dancing Machines applies art, anarchy and absurdity to advance other creatures. 100% of the proceeds from its music and multimedia projects are donated to causes designated by contributing artists. International Dancing Machines advocates for audacious thinking and ludicrous implementation, breaking barriers with big, dumb, fantastic ideas.

Media Contact

International Dancing Machines

@gmail.com

Source : International Dancing Machines

See on IssueWire