RentValet, a new real estate technology platform, today announced the launch of its early-access pilot program designed specifically for small landlords managing 1 to 50 rental units.

RentValet acts as an automated, around-the-clock property assistant that handles tenant operations overnight, eliminating the need for property owners to manage late-night maintenance emergencies or manually chase rent payments.

Unlike traditional property management platforms that stop at simple payment processing, RentValet functions as a coordinated team of specialized AI agents. The platform monitors tenant email and SMS channels 24/7, instantly triages maintenance requests, matches jobs against the landlord's approved vendor list, and automatically confirms dispatch times with tenants.

“Small landlords often choose between losing their weekends to tenant texts or paying hefty fees to property management companies,” said Joe Cannerelli, Founder of RentValet. “We built RentValet to bridge that gap. It watches the inbox around the clock, handles the friction of vendor coordination, and summarizes the entire week into a single, clean email digest on Monday morning.”

RentValet operates on a flat, transparent per-unit monthly pricing structure with zero tenant-facing fees, helping landlords keep their rental margins intact.

To mark the launch of its early-access pilot, RentValet is currently offering a 30-day free trial for up to three units for property owners looking to automate operations for up to three units.
