

Upjau Announces Nationwide Plant Delivery Service to Expand Access to Gardening Across India

Upjau, India's online plant nursery since 2019, launches Pan-India plant delivery, bringing indoor, outdoor, flowering & fruit plants to smaller cities via safe packaging and doorstep shipping nationwide.

Noida, Uttar Pradesh Aug 4, 2026 (Issuewire.com) - Upjau, an Indian online plant nursery founded in 2019, has announced the launch of its plant delivery service across India. Now all plant lovers and customers from across India can order a wide range of plants from the comfort of their Home. The expansion is aimed at improving access to healthy plants and gardening products for people living in small cities and regions where quality nurseries may not be readily available. Since its foundation, Upjau has grown into a family of more than thousands of customers and continues to focus on making gardening easier through its online services.

Home gardening has become a hobby for people in the past few years. People are trying to turn their balconies, terraces, and apartment corners into little green spaces. However, access to quality and healthy plants remains limited in many regions. And even when you do find them, getting them delivered safely is its own headache; plants tend to wilt or get damaged over long distances. Upjau's nationwide delivery service is meant to fix exactly this problem, so that someone sitting in a smaller town can now get the same quality plants that used to be available only in metro cities.

The newly introduced service includes the delivery of indoor plants, outdoor plants, flowering plants, Flowering bulbs, fruit plants, gifting plants, and all the gardening essentials. So, there is no need to go anywhere else; now you can get everything at your doorstep. This is good news for gardening lovers. To make sure plants survive the journey, Upjau has worked on its packaging and shipping process to get plants to customers in one healthy piece. The platform itself is pretty straightforward to use too. Customers can go online, browse through the available plants, place their order, and get it delivered right to whichever address they choose.

For people who don't have a decent nursery nearby or much choice in their local market, this expansion should make a real difference. By taking delivery nationwide, Upjau is hoping more households will actually get into gardening, and that buying plants becomes that much easier no matter which part of India someone lives in.

Looking ahead, Upjau plans to continue to spread its plant collection, introduce rarer and exotic varieties, and improve customer support resources.

Commenting on the announcement, Ankkita Mehrotra, Founder of Upjau, said, "Our goal has always been to make gardening easy and affordable for everyone. With the announcement of Pan India delivery, we hope more people, regardless of where they live, can enjoy the experience of growing healthy plants at home. This expansion is an important step toward reaching plant lovers and gardeners across the country."
